

About the Cornell Historical Society

The Cornell Historical Society (CHS) is an undergraduate organization at Cornell University founded in the fall of 2010. Our mission is to foster an appreciation and understanding of historical topics and methodology within the undergraduate student body and general community. We publish this annual journal, Ezra's Archives, which showcases undergraduate research in the field of history. In addition, we support the History Advisor Program for incoming students, host speaker events, and encourage community among undergraduates, graduate students, and faculty in the History Department.
