CORNELL CREW DEFEATS HARVARD.

Won by Four Lengths in 11:27 1-5—
With but Little Effort Cornell
Eight Led Throughout—Crimson Oarsmen Rowed the Cornell Stroke.

Three lengths of open water separated the rudder of the Cornell shell and the nose of the Harvard shell at the finish of the Cornell-Harvard second Varsity race on Cayuga lake last Saturday. The time of the winning crew was 11:27 1-5, almost a minute slower than the record for the course. Harvard rowed a plucky race, and rowed it in fine form, but never at any stage of the contest menaced Cornell's chances for victory.

The day was ideal for a boat-race—bright, clear and just warm enough to be comfortable—and the crowd that filled the observation train and the excursion boats, and that lined the shore of the lake was enormous.

In violation of precedent but to the great satisfaction of spectators and railroad officials, the race was rowed on schedule time. The observation train, filled with more than two thousand men and women, left the crossing at the foot of Buffalo street at 5:20 and fifteen minutes later was at the head of the two-mile course, about two and a half miles from Renwick Park. The lake was smooth as a mirror, the sun was shining brightly and a slight breeze was stirring out of the northwest.

When the train reached the head of the course the crews were on hand waiting for the start. The Cornell men were a few rods above their stake-boat; the Harvard men an eighth of a mile below. All eyes were on the Crimson eight—the crew coached by Mr. Frederick D. Colson former captain of the Cornell crew. All eyes were on the Harvard men because everyone was anxious to see their stroke; to see if it was the easy, rhythmic swing characteristic of Cornell crews or whether it was the nerve-racking stroke which the Crimson oarsmen reeled off at the rate of thirty-eight to the minute a year ago and which brought them up to the finish line eight lengths in the rear of the Cornell crew and with three men ready to topple over in their boat.

Coxswain Montgomery's order set the crew in motion toward the starting point and the men with the crimson-tipped sweeps swung up past the observation train with the easy swing which, with other crews has given some good people a chill on the Hudson river. It was the Cornell stroke except for the finish. It seemed the same catch and the same harsh pull, with a gentle though rapid recovery which did not check the boat between strokes. A cheer a quarter of a mile in length greeted the Massachusetts men as they pulled up to the starting point.

At 5:55 the starter's pistol sounded and the crews got away together. For a half score of strokes the noses of the two shells ran on even terms; then the Cornell boat leaped suddenly to the fore and as the two contestants flashed past the quarter-mile flag the bow of the Harvard boat was running on a line with No. 7 in the Cornell shell. Harvard was rowing thirty strokes to the minute; Cornell, twenty-eight. At the half-mile it was Cornell's race with a half-length of open water to spare.

Brownell at this point raised his stroke two points, recovered a half length of Cornell's lead and at the mile mark the Harvard boat was overlapping the Cornell shell. Cornell was rowing twenty-eight to the minute and seemed not the least disturbed at the approach of the visitors. Brownell dropped back to thirty strokes and from the mile to the mile and three-quarters there was no sprinting. Both crews were rowing a "Cornell race"—a strong, steady race with a killing sprint for the close.

When the whistle on the referee's launch tooted the signal that Cornell had entered the last half-mile stretch a length and a half of light shone between the two flying craft. The Cornell men were rowing two strokes less to the minute than were their opponents yet they gradually slid away from them in just the way in which a Cornell eight rowing thirty-two to the minute runs away from its Poughkeepsie rivals rowing a higher stroke. A quarter of a mile from the finish line Foote raised his stroke to thirty-four and Brownell followed. The Cornell boat seemed to dance over the water and shot across the line with four boat-lengths to spare. Both crews rowed a hard race yet no one collapsed in either boat at the finish.

Shaken up on the eve of the race, the Cornell eight was made up as follows: Foote, stroke; Lee, 7; Aller, 6; Whitehead, 5; Barnhart, 4; Johnson, 3; Barton, 2, and Fisher, bow. The Harvard boat rowed with Brownell, stroke; Flint, 7; Shepard, 6; Meier, 5; Switzer, 4; Gill, 3; Pleasanton, 2, and Johnson, bow.

Reduced Railroad Rates to Ithaca.

It has been announced by the Cornell authorities that all persons coming to the Cornell Commencement exercises and to the Cornell Class Reunions, whether graduates of the University or not, may secure for one fare and one third, a round-trip ticket to Ithaca from points in the territory of the Trunk Line Passenger Association, the Central Passenger Association and the Western Passenger Association upon complying with the following conditions:

1. A certificate of the standard form, called the "Association's Certificate," must be obtained from the ticket agent at the starting point, at the time when the "going ticket" is purchased, showing that a first class full fare to Ithaca has been paid.

2. Certificates are not kept at all stations. Agents at all important stations and coupon ticket offices in the territory named below are supplied with certificates. If the ticket agent is not supplied with certificates and through tickets to Ithaca, he can give information of the nearest station where they can be obtained. The applicant should purchase a ticket to such station and there secure the authorized certificate with a through ticket (not a round trip ticket) to Ithaca.

3. "Going tickets" must be purchased between June 16 and June 23, inclusive; except that at points remote from Ithaca, where the authorized transit limit is more than three days, tickets may be bought earlier than June 16.

4. The certificate must be delivered to the secretary of the Commencement Committee, Mr. A. L. Andrews, Barnes Hall, for endorsement immediately on arrival in Ithaca. It will be validated by the authorized agent, June 22 or 23. The agent will not be at Ithaca on any other dates.

5. On presentation of the certificate duly endorsed, the ticket agent at Ithaca will sell the holder a continuous passage ticket to the point at which the certificate and the "going" through ticket were secured, by the route over which the "going journey" was made, at one-third the fare by such route. The final date for exchange of certificate is June 27.

6. No reduction will be allowed unless the fare one way exceeds seventy-five cents, nor unless the authorized certificate is obtained at the time of purchase of the "going ticket." Receipts for fare paid will not be accepted in lieu of certificates.

7. The certificates are not transferable, and return tickets secured upon certificate are not transferable.

The foregoing plan for reduced rates to Ithaca has been adopted by the above named associations—the Trunk Line Passenger Association, the Central Passenger Association and the Western Passenger Association which include the following roads:

TRUNK LINE ASSOCIATION.

Second Annual Banquet of Cornell Sun Editors Held on Thursday, May 27th.

In accordance with the custom established last year the Cornell Daily Sun held its second annual banquet at the Ithaca hotel on Thursday evening, May 27th. The dinner was attended by practically all the old Sun men in Ithaca at the time. Besides the out-going and incoming boards, those present were Instructor C. L. Babcock, '94, F. E. Gannett, '98, L. G. Price, '02, and A. M. Wright, '03. Other former members of the Sun board who were unable to attend were Dean Huffcut, '84, Professor Hull, '86, E. H. Bostwick, '85, and G. D. Crofts, '01.

No formal toasts were responded to as was the case last year, but instead, after the dinner had been finished several of the older men present were called upon to speak upon some subject connected with the Sun or to give reminiscences of their days on the paper.

Mr. Babcock, the editor of longest standing among those present, recalled the time when it was considered a great feat to get the Sun out before noon, instead of having it delivered on the Hill at half-past seven in the morning. It was in Mr. Babcock's time that the famous "scrap" between the two rival Suns occurred which became so bitter that it was necessary to have the matter settled by a vote of the whole University. Mr. Gannett, L. G. Price, and A. M. Wright also spoke of various happenings worthy of record during their respective years on the board.

The subject which received the most discussion during the evening was the plan of the 1905 board to enlarge the paper to eight pages, double its present size and the present size of every other college daily in the United States. The sentiment of the gathering was unanimous that the venture was a praiseworthy one, that there was need of such a development in the college daily, and that the detailed plans which were already announced insured during the coming year a Sun of greatly increased merit and usefulness.

In view of the fact that next year will mark the 25th anniversary of the founding of the paper, it was suggested that a special anniversary number be issued, containing letters from former editors who have attained distinction since graduation, articles by other graduates upon matters connected with the University, making an issue commemorative of the advancement of the Sun and the progress of the University during the last twenty-five years.

Eighty-Six Prize Contest.

Charles Henry Tuck of Ogdensburg, N. Y., a member of the sophomore class, last night won the Eighty-six Memorial Prize in Declamation. Tuck is a brother of E. A. Tuck, '98. A complete report of the contest will be given in next week's paper.

A POINT TO INSIST ON.

There are endless numbers of traveling people who go regularly from New York to Chicago and vice versa several times a month, who have never gone over any other road but the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, because this road is "good enough" for them. It's good enough for anybody, the fastest, safest, most convenient and most comfortable road in America. Once you travel over the Lake Shore and you will not want to experiment with any other road. People who know the comforts and discomforts of traveling, and what they have a right to expect, always insist on their tickets reading by way of the Lake Shore. So should you.

Quakers Made all Three of their Runs on Errors—Game Went for Ten Innings—Cornell had an Excellent Chance to Win in Tenth but Failed to Rise to the Occasion.

The Cornell-Pennsylvania baseball game last Saturday went for ten innings and was won by the Quakers 3 to 2. The game was a gift to the Pennsylvanians, two of their three runs coming in on wild pitches by Lefevre. With nine hits credited to Cornell and three to the visitors the result might well have been a Cornell victory.

Cornell scored in the second inning and in the fifth. In the second, Preston singled, went to second on a wild pitch and crossed the plate on Brown's hit. In the fifth, Brewster singled, stole second, went to third on Costello's single and scored on Champaign's hit. That finished Cornell's run-getting though there were two men on bases when the third out was made in the eighth and three on bases with but one out in the tenth.

Pennsylvania scored in the sixth, the eighth and the tenth. In the sixth Howes singled and was followed to the bat by Wilder who placed a clean two-bagger in left field, sending Howes to third. Rice threw wild to Welch at the plate and Howes scored. Wilder went to third. Bennett sent a long fly out to Brewster and as soon as the ball was in the hands of the Cornell captain Wilder started in from third; but so skillfully and so rapidly did Brewster handle the ball that Welch caught his man. In the eighth inning Delvin got to first on Rice's error, was advanced to second on Howes' sacrifice and ran home on Lefevre's wild pitch. The score was then a tie, 2 to 2.

In Pennsylvania's half of the ninth Bennett was thrown out at first on a scratch hit to Lefevre; Swain was given four balls and stole second; Gladseiter flied out to Brewster and Drake was given four balls. Stites was at bat when Welch threw Swain out at second, retiring the Pennsylvania side. In Cornell's half of the inning Wiley and Rice struck out and Lefevre flied out to Stites.

In the tenth every one stood up and if concerted cheering could win a game Cornell would have been victor. Stites, the first man up, struck out. Devlin hit a grounder to Preston and that player fumbled the ball and in throwing to Lefevre at first base hit the Pennsylvania base-runner on the back whereupon he was sent down to second. On a wild pitch Devlin ran in from second. Howes got to first on four balls but was caught in attempting to steal second. Cariss struck out.

Cornell had a fine chance of tying the score or batting out a victory in her half of the tenth. Brewster, who heads the batting list, was the first man up and was given a base on balls. Costello sacrificed and Brewster went to second. Champaign was given four balls and Welch, the next man up, hit to Drake who threw to Cariss at second. Cariss dropped the ball and everyone was safe with three men on bases and but one out. But hope soon faded away for Preston flied out to Stites and Brown went out from Cariss to Gladseiter.

Cornell, 14; Lehigh, 4.

Three hits and five errors gave Cornell nine runs in the first inning of the Lehigh game last Wednesday. The visitors had opened strong in the first half of the inning and on one hit and errors by Wiley and Lovejoy had sent four men across the plate before Captain Brewster's men came to bat. The rest of the game was listless, its only feature being the pitching of Lovejoy who, in his first game on the home grounds, struck out nine men.

Entered as second class matter at Ithaca P. O.

ITHACA, N. Y., JUNE 1, 1904.

Alumni returning to Ithaca for the Commencement exercises and the Class reunions should register in Barnes Hall immediately upon their arrival in the city. This register will be taken by the Trunk Line Passenger Association, the Central Passenger Association and the Western Passenger Association as an accurate index of the number of men who returned to Ithaca from points in their respective territories. Upon these figures the several associations will determine whether or not they will next year make the same concessions which they have made this year.

In most of the large cities of the country, particularly in the north and in the west, there exist healthy associations of Cornell Alumni. The aims of these associations are the keeping alive, among Cornellians, a keen interest in the University and the establishment of local brotherhoods of Cornellians throughout the country. So far as these are the aims of the associations they have been well attained.

But to stop at that point is to realize little of the possibilities of the associations. The next step should be the organization of all the associations into one great national fraternity of Cornell Alumni with transferable membership from one association to another. The man who is a member in good standing in Chicago should, upon removal to New York or Philadelphia, be a member in good standing in either of those associations up to the time when his membership in the Chicago association would expire. The secretary of the association located in a territory from which a Cornell man is moving should report that removal to the secretary of the association in the territory which he is entering and the secretary of that association should communicate with the stranger and bring him into the fold. In their several areas Alumni associations have done good work. But it has been a local one and the time is now ripe for the organization of a national association of all associations of Cornell men.

Shake-up in Varsity Crew.

Following the race with Harvard on Saturday has come a shake-up in the Varsity boat. The crew tonight was made up with Nutting at stroke; Foote, 7; Ballinger, 6; Fernow, 5; Wadsworth, 4; Boesch, 3; Coffin, 2; Stone, bow.

Two fours were made as follows: Foote, stroke; Forbes, 3; Barton, 2; Lee, bow.

Folger, stroke; Johnson, 3; Barnhart, 2; Locke, bow.

Cornell Faculty Appointments and Promotions.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the board of Trustees, held last week, the following appointments and promotions were made:

Dexter S. Kimball was appointed professor of Mechanic Arts in Sibley College, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Professor John Morris. Professor Kimball is at present Works Manager of the Stanley Electric company, Pittsfield, Mass. He was formerly professor of machine design in Sibley College and was one of the most popular professors in the college.

TO THE CLASS OF EIGHTY-FOUR.
CLASSMATES OF '84:

Memorial Day is an especially appropriate date upon which to call your attention to the coming twenty-year reunion of our class at Cornell.

Since the meeting of the class at the Cornell Dinner in February much has been done to make the coming reunion a success. The history of the class has been published in the ALUMNI NEWS and a copy sent to every member whose address is known to the secretary. Last week in the same way the roster of the class was issued. Every member of the class is requested to look this list over carefully and send to the secretary at once any corrections or additions that are needed.

The secretary of the class has just returned from Ithaca where final preparations are now crystallizing. It only needs an energetic and cooperative effort and personal attendance of every member to make the reunion one of which the class will feel proud.

Practically the entire second floor of the Ithaca Hotel, where our reunion is to be held, is to be reserved until the 10th of June for the accommodation of any member of the class who will make application for a room before that time limit expires. With a graduating class of five hundred and a corresponding increase in Commencement visitors the necessity of engaging a room in advance is apparent.

Let me urge you to write at once to the Ithaca Hotel, mention your class, ask that a room be reserved for you, state when you will arrive and how long you expect to remain. You will be well taken care of and having a class colony together in this way will add much to the pleasure of all of us.

Special arrangements have been made with Railway Passenger Associations all over the country. It will be seen that the facilities thus offered will make the traveling expenses in most cases but one and one-third fare for the round trip.

Alumni Day is Wednesday, June 22, 1904. On this day events in which former students are especially interested will focus. On the evening of that day our vigintennial reunion will be held at the Ithaca Hotel. We will try and be through in time for the Commencement exercises on the following morning.

It is especially important that we shall know at once just how many of the class are to be expected.

Let every one reply "Yes."

Fraternally,

HENRY P. DE FOREST,
Secretary.

Hotel Stanley,
124 West 47th Street,
New York City.

THE 1901 TRIENNIAL.

A dozen 1901 men met in Ithaca on Saturday and laid a few plans for the big reunion of June 22nd. Little, Morrison, Gay, Robertson, Senior, Baker, Dresser and Robbins were among those present. The plans of the reunion committee were discussed and approved. The plan of holding a 1901 parade, led by the Ithaca band, and of establishing the 1901 headquarters in a tent erected for the occasion, were heartily endorsed. Arrangements for the parade will be made by Grand Marshall "Dai" Thomas who will arrive in Ithaca on Monday, June 20th. The staff of the Grand Marshall—who by the way is being sued—will be announced in next week's NEWS.

SUIT AGAINST THOMAS.

Notice was this morning served upon the publishers of the ALUMNI NEWS of an action about to be brought by Mr. Heatley Green against "Dai" Thomas for reporting him in last week's NEWS as being "married, by the way". Mr. Green alleges that he has thereby been injured in his reputation and in his business and has retained "Brick" Metcalf to sue the said Thomas for $20,000 damages.

Special Car for Westerners Coming to Ithaca for Commencement and Reunions.

Cornell men in Chicago returning to Ithaca for Commencement will have a special car, over the Lake Shore, run through from Chicago to Ithaca without change. The car will be attached to the Lake Shore Limited which will leave Chicago at 5:30 P. M. on Monday afternoon, June 20th. Cornell men from the Northwest or from any other points, who will pass through Chicago may secure reservations in the car by applying to L. F. Vosburgh, 180 Clark street, Chicago. Two or more cars will be attached if necessary.

YALE WON INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET.

Cornell Track Team Tied with Princeton for Fourth Place—Munson's Mile Run a Feature—Cairns and Vonnegut Fell in Hurdle Races.

Yale triumphed over all her rivals in the Intercollegiate track meet at Philadelphia on Saturday afternoon. The wearers of the Blue scored a total of $34\frac{1}{3}$ points, nine more than their nearest opponent, their rivals from Cambridge. Pennsylvania was third, $1\frac{1}{3}$ points

CAPTAIN LAWRENCE T. KETCHUM, '04. behind the Crimson, and Cornell and Princeton tied for fourth place with a total of 15 points.

The scores of the eleven colleges that secured points in the meet were: Yale, $34\frac{1}{3}$; Harvard, $25\frac{1}{3}$; Pennsylvania, 24; Cornell, 15; Princeton, 15; Syracuse, $10\frac{1}{3}$; Colgate, 6; Columbia, 5; Amherst, 4; New York University, 2; and Haverford, 2.

Cornell won two firsts, two thirds and one fourth. Of Cornell's five places, four were won in the distance runs; three in one event—the two-mile. Munson won first place in the mile covering the distance in 4:26 1-5, or within two seconds of the record. His race was one of the features of the meet and according to the critics the record would have been lowered had he been pressed.

Schutt, Trott, Magoffin and Foster started in the two-mile run. Foster was in to pace and the other three to score. For the first five laps on the quarter-mile track the Cornell trio who were to score lagged some fifteen yards in the rear of their opponents; but in the sixth lap they took the lead and save for the dogged fight made by Nasmith of Colgate had little competition in the last three laps. Schutt finished first; Nasmith, second; Trott, third and Magoffin, fourth. The running of the men in this event clearly evidenced once more that in distance running Cornell has no peer in the American colleges.

Captain Ketchum, who has been ill during a good part of the year started in the high hurdles and won third place. Vonnegut, who won in the high flights in the Princeton and Pennsylvania meets and who won second place in the low hurdles in the same meets, qualified in the trials at Philadelphia on Friday, and on Saturday, in the semi-finals, lit on a soft spot in the track and fell over a hurdle half way down his course. Cairns who had been picked to win in the low hurdles from Clapp of Yale ran away from his opponents in the trials on Friday. In the semi-finals on the following day when leading by four yards he fell over a hurdle at 120 yards in attempting to veer in from the spectators who leaned far over the iron fence that bounded the course in which the Cornellian was running.

The meet was full of surprises and not the least of them were Munson's running in the mile; the withdrawal of the champion Duffy from the finals in the dash events; the pole vaulting of Gring, Gardner and McLanahan who broke the Intercollegiate record, and the defeat of Glass in the hammer-throw. Strangland of Columbia did the best broad jumping seen at an Intercollegiate meet in two years and Parsons, the Yale freshman, going the half-mile in 1:56 4-5 satisfied the so-called experts that the time credited to him in the 74th Regiment meet in Buffalo last winter might very well have been accurate and that he was not at his best when he ran in the Yale-Harvard meet a week before.

The summaries of the meet follow:

One-mile run final—Won by Munson, Cornell; second, Williams, Princeton; third, Tatnall, Haverford; fourth, Alcott, Yale. Time, 4:26 1-5.

220-yard dash, semifinal, two to qualify—First heat won by Dear, Pennsylvania, second, Long, Yale. Time, :22 1-5. Second heat, won by Cartwell, Pennsylvania; second, Schick, Harvard. Time :21 4-5.

100-yard dash, semi-final, two to qualify for final—First heat, won by Schick, Harvard; Dear, Pennsylvania, second. Time, :10. Second heat, won by Cartwell, Pennsylvania; Rulon-Miller, Princeton, second. Time, :10 1-5.

Half-mile run, final—Won by Parsons, Yale; second, Williams, Princeton; third, Adsit, Princeton;

Interscholastic Track Meet Attracted some of the Strongest Preparatory School Athletes in the East.
Won by Colgate.

The twelfth annual Interscholastic track meet held under the auspices of the Cornell Athletic Association, was run off in a pouring rain and on a heavy track on Monday afternoon, and was won by Colgate Academy with a score of 35½ points. The University School of Cleveland came next with a score of 31 and Rochester high school third with a total of 14. The other teams scoring were: Pratt Institute, 11; Masten Park of Buffalo and Syracuse high school, 10; Ithaca, 8½; Yonkers, 8; Cortland Normal, 7½; Janner's Preparatory School of Syracuse, 3½; Cascadilla, 3; and Henley School of Syracuse, 2.

The contestants were a higher class of athletes than have ever before competed in the Interscholastic meet. This was because the meet was open not only to the high schools of the State but also to any preparatory school that desired to enter a team. The result of the innovation was that teams came from Cleveland, Colgate Academy and Pratt Institute, which were far above the average of high school track teams. The meet was therefore more keenly contested and on a higher plane than heretofore.

The stars were Young, of Colgate Academy, who won three firsts and one third, and Cook of the University School of Cleveland, who won one first and three seconds. These men were in a class by themselves. Next to them came Alcott of the University School of Cleveland; Risley and Horr of Colgate Academy; Deer of Pratt Institute; Langslow of Rochester and Hughes of Masten Park.

The preparatory schools boys arrived in Ithaca from Saturday morning until Monday noon. There were about four score of them all of whom were entertained by a dozen fraternities. Each of these fraternities took from four to eight men and tried to make their stay in Ithaca a pleasant one. The entertainers were Alpha Delta Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Chi Phi, Chi Psi, Delta Tau Delta, Delta Upsilon, Theta Delta Chi, Sigma Chi, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Psi Upsilon and Zeta Psi.

One 1901 Man who Cannot be in Ithaca on June 22nd.

Every member of the class of 1901 has heard in one way or another of the great Triennial reunion of the class which will be held on June 22nd. Even men well down toward the south pole have heard about it and if there were any such thing as their being in Ithaca for the gathering they would be there. One 1901 man in a foreign land is George S. Lang from whom a member of the Triennial committee has received the following letter:

VALPARAISO, April 27, 1904.

DEAR ———:—Yours of March 9th received here last Friday and if I could have reached you with a gun your name would now be adorning a slab of marble. Gad, man, I have been thinking of that coming reunion for about six months and the homesickness caused by those thoughts was bad enough before your letter came. But to have a classmate bring to mind all the good times of other days—and you're right, such are only to be had in Ithaca—is rubbing it in. There would be some relief if I had a fellow sufferer for sympathy but no such luck.

Caramba! I shall think of you fellows all of that week so when the opening prayer is read at Zinckie's or the Dutch Kitchen just say a single "Salud" to absent but not unfaithful "criminals" and know that there is a Naughty-one at the other end of the continent who is with you heart and soul. And when Col. Childs calls the roll of muster, get in the rear rank and answer "Here" for me as we used to do in the good old days when we shouldered the musket and wore our grandfather's uniforms for Capt. Schuyler.

Do me the favor, if you think of it amidst all the joy of the occasion, to remember me to Archie Morrison, Late Lyon, Strat, Sprig Massey, Cas. Atwood, Ralph Chatillon, Dai Thomas, Charlie Sheldon, Father Bailey, Warren Ogden, Shorty Williams, Duffy Robbins, "Robbie" Robertson, Hughy Jennings, and all the rest. You know them and this is mail day and I lack time to enumerate.

Also give my kind regards to Kimball, Johnny Barr, Paddy Ryan etc., and don't forget Johnny Wiseman, Granger and Head, Bob and Jim and old Wood.

I am counting now on getting back to the States for a vacation to cover June, 1906, and in that case old "Del" with a warrant couldn't keep me away from "The Hill."

That the Carnival may be a howling success and that you may all renew the old ties and enthusiasm to the glory and success of Cornell and 1901, is the most sincere wish of

Your Classmate,
GEORGE STUART LANG.

Michigan Game Cancelled on Account of Rain.

The baseball game scheduled for Monday forenoon between Cornell and Michigan was cancelled on account of the rainy weather, and the visitors returned to Ann Arbor that evening. This was the last home game of the season. Only the Alumni game, to be played June 21st, now remains.

The Cornell squad will leave Friday noon for Philadelphia, where on Saturday it will play a return game with Pennsylvania at Franklin Field. June 17th and 18th, Cornell plays Michigan at Ann Arbor and Detroit, and the regular season is then over.

YOUR SUMMER HOLIDAY

Nature intended that we should spice up our daily toil with a short butterfly exit to some beautiful lake resort during the hot summer months. This is plainly evident both from our own natural desires and the many interesting places so lavishly provided.

Summer resorts such as Muskoka are occupying a great deal of our attention, because nature smiles upon us during the summer season and we can then live entirely out of doors, while we indulge in boating, bathing, games of different sorts and a great variety of other forms of recreation.

No other section of the world is so fortunately situated in this respect as the Province of Ontario. Muskoka with its many beautiful lakes, winding rivers and splendidly wooded islands, is within easy reach by rail, or boat and rail. A trip lasting but a few hours north of Toronto, will transfer tired and hot humanity to cool, peaceful surroundings, such as the gods are supposed to envy.
