CAMPUS IS CHANGING RAPIDLY.

Returning Alumni Will Find Many Alterations in Appearance Within a Few Years—Now is the Best Time to Come—Plans for Senior Ball.

In fourteen days, more or less, the town will be brimful and running over with Alumni, come back to cast an eye upon the Cornell of today. Incidentally, they will renew old friendships and forget for a few fleeting moments the rustle and racket of business life.

The hour even now approacheth, nay is already upon us, when the "old grads." must make their decision whether to return to the University this season. And so it may not be amiss to devote a few inches to a sketch of what they will find.

Careful readers of this paper must have realized ere this that the University has been changing pretty rapidly in these latter days, both in outward appearance and in internal structure. Last year's graduates will find some changes already completed, and others well under way. The 1901 men will speedily be convinced that things have not been standing still since they took themselves off, while '99 men and those of still earlier classes who have not been here since graduation will undoubtedly open their eyes in amazement.

The biggest alteration in the Campus during the past twelve months has been brought about by the removal of a number of old trees that lined the avenues and shaded the buildings. This work, as already related in these columns, was done to carry out the suggestions of Landscape Architect Charles N. Lowrie of New York City. The change in the looks of things, even to students who were on the ground day by day, was so sudden and sweeping that many were moved to protest. Thoughtful ones, however, who reserved their judgment for a time, gradually came to approve, and the same favorable verdict is expected from returning Alumni.

The beautiful view of lake and valley is now visible in the openings between the Library, Morrill, McGraw and White, as it never was before in the spring season. This is the result of removing some of the trees which stood west of these buildings, and whose function seemed to be mainly the cutting off of the vista. Other trunks have been felled along Central and Presidents avenues, disclosing the University halls and relieving the density that used to impress visitors.

In place of some of these trees, and in other spots, as for instance in front of Sibley and about the Chapel, dwarf shrubs have been planted to give variety to the landscape.

Besides this notable change, already finished, work has begun which will alter the Campus even more in the next twelve months. This is the excavation for the new Goldwin Smith and Rockefeller Halls. No buildings erected in recent years have made so great a change in the appearance of the Campus as will these two halls when completed. Goldwin Smith Hall will be particularly conspicuous, as it will extend along the east side of the quadrangle, looming up big from every direction.

The digging for this hall is being rushed, and in a few weeks the foundation will be commenced. Alumni who return this month will have their last sight of the old quadrangle as it has been these many years. This is an added incentive for every man in the seven reunion classes to rip himself loose from his surroundings and travel back to Ithaca for Commencement week. In East avenue five dwellings are being moved, to make room for the Hall of Physics, thus changing completely the appearance of that section of the Campus.

The quadrangle, however, is not the only place that is being dug up these days. The territory lying off to the east of the Campus, along the continuation of South avenue, which will some day bear the name of Alumni Field, is being tampered with by the minions of the Albany Construction Company. The dirt will fly fast between now and September first.

Come to Ithaca, gentle reader, on June 22d and see what the athletic field committee is doing with your money. At least, it ought to be your money that is helping to build the new field: if it isn't, come and inspect the work and you will be persuaded to donate some.

In the last twelve months, moreover, Sage Chapel has been transformed into the most beautiful college chapel in all America. This is the only noteworthy change in the Campus buildings, but it is a most impressive one. First of all, a wing has been added to the north end of the building. More important, however, the whole interior has been redecorated and refurnished, the organ and choir loft moved and a new stone pulpit erected. Ceiling and side walls are covered with a grand decorative scheme of surpassing beauty. Pews of dark wood and mosaic floors harmonize with the other features of the interior. To a person with any eye at all for architectural beauty, the new Chapel is well worth a journey to Ithaca.

Since 1901, the Medical College has arisen from the empty earth, and has been surrounded with as handsome grounds as those of any hall on the Campus. Sibley College; during the same period, has been gathered together and welded into a compact whole by the erection of the new dome. The geodetic observatory has been planted conspicuously on the knoll south of the Veterinary Building, and the old hut that did fitful duty in this capacity has gone to grace the poultry yard on the University farm.

If so much has been accomplished or at least begun in one year, the older graduates may surmise what changes in outward appearance have been wrought in five or ten or twenty years.

PLANS FOR SENIOR BALL.

The various managers and committees having in charge the events of Senior Week are now arranging the final details, and are confident that returning Alumni will find every provision made for their comfort and enjoyment.

Arrangements for the Senior Ball on Tuesday, June 21st, the most elaborate entertainment of the week, are practically completed. The most interesting feature of the committee's plans concerns the decorations. Since the Iroquois theater fire at Chicago, the University faculty has been disposed to take every possible precaution against fire in the University dances at the Armory.

Accordingly, the use of bunting will be abandoned for the most part this spring, and an entirely new ceiling decoration adopted. An original effect will be secured by adorning the whole ceiling with palm leaves, and the side walls similarly down to a point about sixteen feet above the floor. Upon this lower portion of the walls bunting will be used, the colors being green and white. The general effect will give an air of coolness to the hall. Special attention will be given to ventilation and the outside promenade will be used as before.

The programmes, which were placed on sale Monday morning, are unusually handsome. The cover is a rich card case of brown leather, slightly corrugated, while

REORGANIZE SIBLEY DEPARTMENTS.

Trustees Adopt Plans of New Director in Shops and Drawing—New Instructors to be Engaged—H. E. Dann Promoted—Other Appointments.

The appointment of Albert W. Smith as director of Sibley College has already borne fruit in the shape of plans for radical changes in the college next fall. Professor Smith has spent the past three weeks in Ithaca, conferring with the members of the engineering faculty and studying carefully the curriculum of the college. The results of his work were embodied in the report of last week's meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees.

President Schurman presented to the executive committee the remainder of his nominations for 1904-5 and the nominations were ratified. Appointments had previously been made in all divisions of the University except in the College of Agriculture and Sibley College. In the College of Agriculture the present instructors were all reappointed.

In Sibley College the entire department of free hand drawing and art has been abolished, as the work of this department had no direct relation to engineering, and the work thereof, reduced in hours, has been consolidated with the department of machine design, to which Instructors E. H. Wood and C. C. Myers, of the abolished department of free hand drawing and art, have been transferred.

In the department of mechanic arts the work is to be somewhat reduced in hours and while the instructors in the forge and foundry have been reappointed for 1904-5, there is to be a complete reorganization of the staff of the machine shop and wood shop, for which Professor Kimball is expected to find new instructors among men who are now engaged as shop managers or assistants in large manufacturing establishments. The future aim in the Sibley shop work is to be not so much the acquisition of manual skill as the learning of the principles of modern machine construction, as the students who complete the work there will become not craftsmen, but engineers.

One of the most interesting acts of the executive committee was the promotion of Hollis E. Dann to an assistant professorship of music in the University. Mr. Dann took charge of the newly organized department of music last fall and his successful administration of the work is recognized by this prompt promotion.

Principal F. D. Boynton of the Ithaca High School, J. D. Burks, superintendent of schools in Patterson, N. J., and T. de Laguna were appointed to the instructing staff of the summer session, with the special commission to instruct the 300 Porto Rican students in English and teaching methods.

Professor H. H. Norris was given a leave of absence from the University for the year 1904-5, A. S. McAllister being appointed acting assistant professor in the department of electrical engineering, in Professor Norris's place.

Professor R. S. Tarr was granted a leave of absence for one month during next September, to enable him to attend the meeting of the American Association of Geographers, which convenes in St. Louis, and thence proceeds to Mexico to study geography.

W. H. Manning and Bryant Fleming were appointed lecturers in out-door art in the College of Agriculture.

The resignation of Duncan C. Lee from the position of assistant professor of elocution and oratory was accepted, but his successor was not appointed.

on the title-page appears a sketch of a girl in a ball gown, from the pen of Howard Chandler Christy. The programmes are the work of Dreka of Philadelphia.

Alberger will cater for the ball, and the music will consist of thirty-three regular numbers, seventeen waltzes and sixteen two-steps. Ten extras and the usual number of blind extras will be interspersed with the regular dances.

The patronesses will be: Mrs. Schurman, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. Halliday, Mrs. E. L. Williams, Mrs. R. H. Treman, Mrs. Willcox, Mrs. Olmsted, Mrs. Hoy, Mrs. Tarr, Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. Wyckoff, Mrs. Blair.

Greeting from Cornell to Wisconsin.

The University faculty has prepared an elaborate greeting to be transmitted to the faculty of the University of Wisconsin at the coming jubilee of that institution. The document will be borne by the three delegates from Cornell: Professors G. L. Burr, E. B. Titchener and C. E. Bennett.

The greeting is not in Latin, as is the custom with the English and Scotch universities, but in English, and is handsomely engrossed on parchment, with elaborate initials in colors. It is signed by President J. G. Schurman and Professor W. A. Hammond, secretary of the University faculty. Professors Burr and Titchener will receive the degree of LL.D. from Wisconsin at the jubilee celebration.

'86 DECLAMATION CONTEST CLOSE.

C. H. Tuck, the Winner, is Prominent in Debating and Popular in His Class—Review of the Speeches.

The eighteenth annual declamation contest for the '86 prize, won by Charles Henry Tuck, '06, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., at the Armory last Tuesday evening, was unusually close and well balanced. The audience found it difficult to choose among four or five of the speakers, although the award of the judges was satisfactory.

The winner is a member of the 1906 Cornellian board, president of the H. Morse Stephens Debate Club, vice-president of the Debate Union and generally popular among his classmates. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

CHARLES HENRY TUCK, '06.

George Leal Genung, '06, of Waverly, opened the contest with a selection from Elbert Hubbard on "Child Labor", delivered in a feeling voice and a manner which appealed to the audience.

Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth Cook, '06, of Ithaca, the only woman speaker, gave Robert G. Ingersoll's address, "Crimes Against Criminals." Her interpretation was good, showing depth and power on occasion, and she represented her sex very creditably.

Hugh Price Henry, '05, of Eau Claire Wis., made an earnest and vigorous presentation of John Temple Graves's Chautauqua address on "Lynch Law", justifying the mob as the sole bulwark between a vicious race and Southern womanhood. Horace Greeley Nebeker, '06, of Salt Lake City, Utah, gave an easy and natural interpretation of George William Curtis's address on the public duty of the educated man.

James Nicholas Lorenz, '05, of Ulrichsville, Ohio, delivered Ingersoll's oration on "Happiness" with smoothness and polish. George Gleason Bogert, '06, of Ithaca, argued for the benefits to be derived from the Isthmian canal, displaying directness and sincerity.

Abraham Abbey Freedlander, '05, of Buffalo, gave Sidney Lowenthal's 1901 Woodford oration on "Judaism in the Twentieth Century," putting into it so much earnestness and appeal that he gained and held the sympathies of his audience. John Marville, '04, of Lockport, followed with a sincere and effective eulogy of "The Red Cross Nurse."

Mr. Tuck, the winner, chose part of a prize oration delivered at Hamilton College, on "The Negro in the Civil War." He was probably the most direct and manly of all the speakers, delivering his message in a vigorous yet kindly way.

He was followed by Alfred David, '05, of New York, who gave Wendell Phillips's masterly oration on Daniel O'Connell. Mr. David was easy and natural, giving perhaps the most artistic bit of declamation of the evening. Howard Weddle Douglass, '04, of McKeesport, Pa., pleaded for Benedict Arnold, using his full, musical voice in an effective manner. The last speaker was Ernest M. Card, '04, of Tacoma, Wash., who gave a strong, practical speech on the modern corporation.

After a deliberation of fifteen minutes, the judges—Director-elect Albert W. Smith of Sibley College, the Rev. Wallace E. Brown, pastor of the First M. E. Church of Ithaca, and Assemblyman George E. Monroe of Dryden—announced a unanimous decision.

A POINT TO INSIST ON.

There are endless numbers of traveling people who go regularly from New York to Chicago and vice versa several times a month, who have never gone over any other road but the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, because this road is "good enough" for them. It's good enough for anybody, the fastest, safest, most convenient and most comfortable road in America. Once you travel over the Lake Shore and you will not want to experiment with any other road. People who know the comforts and discomforts of traveling, and what they have a right to expect, always insist on their tickets reading by way of the Lake Shore. So should you.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED.

Eight out of Ten Games will be Played in Ithaca—Professor Irvine Elected President of Athletic Council—Professor Woodruff Becomes Member.

At a meeting of the Cornell Athletic Council held last Wednesday night, the schedule for the football season of 1904 was announced. Ten games will be played in all, eight of them in Ithaca and two out of town.

The schedule is as follows:

September 28th—Colgate, at Ithaca.

October 1st—Rochester, at Ithaca.

October 5th—Hobart, at Ithaca.

October 8th—Hamilton, at Ithaca.

October 15th—Bucknell, at Ithaca.

October 22d—Franklin and Marshall, at Ithaca.

October 29th—Princeton, at Ithaca.

November 5th—Lehigh, at Ithaca.

November 12th—Columbia, at New York.

November 24th—Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.

Professor Frank Irvine, of the College of Law, was elected president of the council and Navy adviser to succeed Professor William F. Durand, who will be absent from the University on leave next year. The resignation of Professor Durand was accepted with regret, as he has been one of the most efficient and popular presidents of the council. Professor Irvine was elected to the council last June, to fill the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of Professor Dennis, and he has taken an active interest in athletics in all branches throughout the past year.

The faculty vacancy caused by Professor Durand's absence was filled by the election of Professor Edwin H. Woodruff, of the College of Law. He will be faculty adviser on interscholastic affairs. News of this action was received enthusiastically by the students, as Professor Woodruff has been a popular speaker at athletic mass meetings for several years, and has shown his interest in athletics in many ways.

County Judge Charles H. Blood was re-elected graduate treasurer; John L. Senior was re-elected graduate manager, and Don R. Cotton, of Syracuse, was elected president of the Cornell Interscholastic League. The council received from former Coxswain I. V. Buchanan, of Pittsburg, his launch as a gift to the Cornell Navy for use in the coaching of the Cornell Freshman crews.

The present assistant managers of the baseball team, track team and crew were elected to managerships for next year as follows: baseball, J. G. Murphy, '05; track, S. H. Ehrlich, '05; crew, E. J. Blair, '05.

W. E. Schutt Elected Varsity Track Captain.

Warren Ellis Schutt, '05, Arts, of Ithaca, was chosen captain of the Cornell Varsity track team for the coming year, at the annual election held in Barnes Hall Wednesday, June 1st. Seventeen wearers of the "C" who have represented Cornell on the track this year were entitled to vote.

Captain Schutt began his athletic work in his Freshman year on the cross country team, where he first attracted the attention of Mr. Moakley. In the following year he made the Varsity track team, captured first place in the Syracuse and Pennsylvania dual meets, and culminated his season's work by winning the two-mile run in the Intercollegiate, establishing a new record for the distance.

This spring he has not been up to his previous form on account of a protracted illness with tonsillitis. He was unable to go with the team to Princeton because he was in the Infirmary at the time. He recovered sufficiently, however, to enter the Intercollegiate at Philadelphia, and again captured first place in the two-mile.

Schutt is regarded as one of the surest point-winners for Cornell next year, and the election as captain has been heartily approved by student sentiment. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. He is also a candidate for the Cecil Rhodes scholarship from New York State.

Munson and Ketchum Win Places at St. Louis Games.

Two members of the Cornell track team took part in the annual games of the Amateur Athletic Union, held at the St. Louis Exposition last Saturday, and both acquitted themselves well. D. C. Munson, '06, won the one-mile run in 4:41 1-5 and came in second in the five-mile run, and Captain L. T. Ketchum took second place in the 120 yard hurdles, Castleman of Colgate winning the event in 16 1-5 seconds.

The men wore the colors of the New York Athletic Club. The club also invited Schutt, Trott, Vonnegut and Cairns to take part in the games as its representatives, but they were prevented by illness or University work. It was suggested that the Athletic Council send a Cornell team of five men to participate in the meet, but the project was deemed inexpedient because the meet was not a collegiate affair, and because of the nearness of the final examinations, which open tomorrow.

The Greater New York Irish Athletic Association won the meet with a score of 61 points, the New York Athletic Club coming next with 45 points.

At the end of the games Miss Alice Roosevelt, representing the president, presented the medals to the winners of the various events.

The meet was held under the most adverse circumstances. A heavy downpour of rain left deep pools of water on the field and track and kept all spectators away from the junior events, which were held first. Fires were built on the field to dry places for the discus, shot-put and hammer-throwing contests, while a brigade of men with sponges and buckets scooped the pools from the track.

The sun came out hot for the senior events and several hundred spectators braved the mud and secured seats in advantageous positions to get a good view of Miss Roosevelt, who occupied the president's box.

James A. Winans Appointed Head of Department of Oratory.

James Albert Winans was appointed yesterday by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees assistant professor in the department of oratory to succeed Professor Duncan C. Lee, whose resignation takes effect at the beginning of the college year next fall.

Mr. Winans is admirably fitted both in natural gifts and training to take Professor Lee's place. He was graduated from Hamilton College in '97, with the degree of A.B. During his course at Hamilton he was prominent in oratory and debate, and was one of the prize speakers. He was also elected to Phi Beta Kappa upon the basis of scholarship.

In 1899 Mr. Winans came to Cornell as an instructor in the department of oratory. Two years of experience in this position showed his ability as a teacher, and when in the fall of 1901, Professor D. C. Lee left for Europe upon his sabbatical year's leave of absence, Mr. Winans was appointed acting assistant professor of elocution and oratory to carry on the work of the department.

In the fall of 1902, Mr. Winans was called to the University of California by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler to organize a department of oratory at that university, in which mission he was notably successful. Last fall, however, he decided to take up the study of law, and returned to Ithaca to enter the Law School. He is just finishing the first year's work there. At the same time he has acted as instructor in public speaking in the department of oratory during the present year, and so is in close touch with the work and the men. Mr. Winans is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and has many friends among the students.

Cornell-Princeton Concert Arranged for Next Fall.

A joint concert by the Princeton and Cornell Musical Clubs has been arranged for the evening of October 18th, 1904, at the Lyceum theater. This is the night before the Princeton-Cornell football game in Ithaca, and follows the custom established last fall, when the Cornell-Columbia concert was held on the eve of the football game between the two universities.

ITHACA, N. Y., JUNE 8, 1904.

In another column we print a sketch of the Campus of today as contrasted with the Campus of yesterday, with a word or two as to the Campus of tomorrow.

In these modern days of industrial development and expansion, there are few institutions that are developing faster than Cornell University. The period embracing the past three years and the coming three years will doubtless be as pregnant with growth as any period of similar length in the whole history of the University. Departments are broadening, buildings are springing up and expanding, and the appearance of the Campus is rapidly being altered. The filling up of one side of the quadrangle, the removal of faculty residences in East avenue from the path of advancing halls of instruction, the leveling of the ravine between Sage College and the Armory into a smooth parade ground for the University cadets, and the beginning of work on a splendid new athletic field and recreation ground—all these are big schemes, changing in no small degree the scenic features of our Campus.

If you would see the old Campus as you remember it, or even as it has come to look since your day, if you would behold the signs of the times, the beginnings of big things, come to Ithaca for Commencement week. If at the end of your visit you do not feel amply repaid, you may bring action against the ALUMNI NEWS for misrepresentation, with excellent chances of recovery.

Three times in the past two weeks the Seniors have assembled for class singing on the steps of Boardman Hall. This is not a new custom; the precedent has existed for many years, but not all classes have followed it.

Few events in a man's college career are more enjoyable and more productive of the right sort of class spirit than Senior singing. Save for that very small proportion of men who cannot trust their ear and voice on the simplest tune—and even these frequently enjoy listening to those who do sing—every man who lifts his voice in a merry, stirring tune in company with two or three hundred of his fellows gets a touch of true inspiration. He feels that he is closer to his classmates than at ordinary times, and he enjoys the feeling keenly. He will carry the memory of this sensation about with him for days, and he will look forward to the time when he may experience it anew. It may even be said, we submit, that the student is likely to carry that memory away with him as one of the finest things that has happened during his four years in Ithaca.

Anything which serves to bind Cornell men closer together and so to generate a little college spirit is laudable per se. This is not a new observation: every true friend of the student has said the same thing for the past ten years. We repeat it just now because we believe that Senior singing should be heartily encouraged with all future classes, as something that does serve to bind Cornell men closer together and so to generate college spirit.

Let the sessions begin earlier in the season, so that the class may practice a number of songs until it knows them. It matters little what the men sing, so long as they sing. "Zanzibar" or "The Heidelberg Stein Song" is just as effective in arousing the spirit of fellowship as the stateliest hymn—perhaps more so. The more varied the repertoire, the more enjoyable will be the occasion.

The first Senior singing this spring attracted a big audience of students from the three lower classes and of townspeople. They applauded the efforts of the musicians in a way that showed the effectiveness of those efforts. Perhaps the spectators themselves absorbed a little of the enthusiasm of the occasion. At all events, the meeting was a splendid success, and deserves repetition many times in each succeeding year.

Then, in after years, when groups of Alumni come together at some place between here and the ends of the earth, their old repertoire will stand by them and the memories of the old days will come flooding back even more swiftly than now. And when reunions are held in Ithaca—there will be a few this year—the "grads" will find one more bond to draw them fast and close together.

CORNELL ALUMNI NOTES.

'75, B.S.—Frederick W. Simonds, professor of geology in the University of Texas, has written a work on "The Geography of Texas: Physical and Political", shortly to be issued by Ginn and Company. In this book Professor Simonds has presented in a pleasing manner the chief characteristics of the largest State in the Union, and has supplemented the text with maps and engravings from photographs collected by himself.

'77, B.S., '83, M.S.—Dr. L. O. Howard, trustee of the University and entomologist of the United States department of agriculture, has returned to Washington after an investigating trip through the Southern States and Mexico.

'84, Ph.B.—Henry J. Patten is a member of the firm of Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington, brokers, in the Western Union Building, Chicago.

'86, A.B.—Arthur T. Emory is teaching at the Cheltenham Academy, Ogontz, Pa.

'86, Ph.B.—Professor Charles H. Hull, accompanied by his father, A. M. Hull, and his sister, Miss Mary Hull, '93, will sail from New York July 12, for England, to spend a month touring the island. The party will return to America August 23d.

'90, M.E.—Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Walbridge and child of New York are in Ithaca the guests of Mrs. Walbridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor of East Buffalo street.

'91, B.S.—Robert O. Moody, of the department of anatomy of the University of California, recently delivered the principal address at the commencement exercises of the College of Medicine of the University of Nebraska.

'92, B.L.—Frank Bowman is a member of the law firm of Turner & Bowman of Lowville, N. Y.

'92, M.E.—Mr. and Mrs. William B. Mitchell of St. Cloud, Mo., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Caŕoline T. Mitchell, to George W. Bacon, '92, at St. Cloud on Wednesday, June 1st.

'92, Ph.M.—Professor Frank A. Fetter is the author of a text-book on "The Principles of Economics; With Application to Practical Problems," to be published late this Summer by the Century Company. It will be an octavo volume of some 500 pages. In announcing the work, the publishers say: "Few economists are more widely known and respected than Professor Fetter, and his work in developing his subject has received wide recognition. Men in leading colleges who have read the manuscript have expressed most favorable opinions of its merits as a teaching text."

'94, Ph.B.—Adna F. Weber has written a paper on "The Significance of Recent City Growth," discussing the present day as the era of small industrial centers. Mr. Weber was President Schurman's first secretary and later held a fellowship in the University.

'94, M.S.—Dr. B. F. Kingsbury, professor of physiology in the Medical College, will be married to Miss Marguerite Hempstead, Ph.B., '00, on June 22, at the home of the bride in Meadville, Pa. Several members of the college faculty will attend the wedding.

Ex-'95.—J. C. Sperry, with the banking firm of O'Connor and Kahler, 49 Wall street, New York, recently called on friends in Ithaca.

'95, C.E.—Marshall B. Palmer of the State engineer's office at Albany has been sent to Fabius, Onondaga County, to take charge of the State road now under construction between that town and Apulia, and expects to remain there two months. Mr. Palmer is a native of Clinton and has been engaged for some time on the barge canal survey.

'96, Ph.B.—Charles A. Ellwood, professor of sociology in the University of Missouri, has published a monograph on the conditions of the county almshouses in that State.

'97, M.E.—William S. Stothoff is residing at 14 Front street, Schenectady, N. Y.

'97, M.E.—F. W. Freeborn, who has been superintendent of the Cayuga Lake Cement Company, has resigned to assume a position with the Iola Portland Cement Company, of Texas, his new address being 366 Gaston avenue, Dallas, Tex.

'98, Ph.B.—Columbia University, at Washington, D. C., conferred law degrees on four Cornell graduates at its commencement June 2d. L. A. Davis, '98, and J. H. Wilson, Jr., A.B., '00, received the degree of LL.B., while E. R. Alexander, M.E., '01, and G. P. Ritter, C.E., '97, were made Masters of Patent Law, having already received their first law degree.

'00, M.E.—George H. Young has changed his residence from 801 Market street to 814 Hepburn street, Williamsport, Pa.

'01, A.B.—A. N. Slocum is connected with the treasury department of the Pittsburgh Railways company of Pittsburgh, Pa.

'01, A.B.—Carl O. Voegelin of Trenton, N. J., has received an appointment as graduate scholar in Columbia University for the year 1904-5.

'01, A.B.—Benjamin R. Andrews, former general secretary of the Cornell Christian Association, has been appointed to a teaching fellowship in the Columbia University Teachers College for the coming academic year. Mr. Andrews received the degree of A.M. from Cornell in 1903, and during the past year has been honor assistant in Columbia.

'01, A.B.—Louis C. Karpinski has been appointed instructor in mathematics in New York University. He will also teach in the summer school of that university. Mr. Karpinski was a champion chess-player while in Cornell, and did more than anyone else to stimulate interest in the game at the University. After graduation he studied at the University of Strassburg, where he obtained the degree of Ph.D. Later he was professor of physics and methods in mathematics at the Oswego State Normal School.

'01, A.B.—Miss Florence French Henry was married to Hervey W. Shimer of Boston, Mass., at the home of her parents in Cortland, N. Y., at 8 A. M., Wednesday, June 1st. Miss Henry, after graduation from Cornell, took advanced work at Columbia, where she received the degree of A.M., in June, 1902. The following year she devoted to special work in the same institution. The groom is a graduate of Lafayette College, and is now an instructor in geology in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. and Mrs. Shimer will go in August to Boston, where they will make their home.

'02, A.B.—Among the graduates of the Albany Law School this month is William J. De Lamater of Hudson.

Ex-'02.—Benjamin G. Rand has changed his address from 95 Eaton Place, East Orange, N. J., to 202 Ninth street, Milwaukee, Wis.

'02, A.B.—George Payne Winters is preparing to take the bar examinations in Colorado after a year in the Columbia Law School.

Ex-'02.—Ralph J. Buckmaster of Ingram, Wis., who left the Law School in 1900, arrived in Ithaca Monday to spend a few days with friends.

PENNSY WINS RETURN CONTEST.

Quakers Shut Out Cornell by Score of 5 to 0 at Franklin Field—Captain Devlin Once More Responsible for Cornell's Defeat.

The Cornell baseball team went down to defeat at the hands of the doughty Quakers for the second time this season at Philadelphia last Saturday. The striking feature of the two contests was that Captain "Bill" Devlin of the Red and Blue team was responsible for both defeats. At Ithaca on regatta day he tallied two of Pennsy's three scores by clever base-running, at the same time keeping the Cornell players from making connections with his curves. At Philadelphia last week his masterly work in the box at critical moments again brought disaster to the Ithacans, this time by the one-sided score of 5 to 0.

Umstad twirled for Cornell, and played a steady game at all times, but in the latter part of the contest the Quakers solved his twisters and batted out a victory after having been shut out for five innings. All of Pennsy's five runs were earned, the single error having no effect on the result.

Devlin was much wilder than his opponent, but the Ithacans were unable to hit him safely when hits were needed. Several times the visitors got men around on bases, but this only seemed to steady the Pennsylvania captain and he always headed off threatened runs.

The ninth inning furnished the best instance of Devlin's erratic pitching. The first two men were sent to first base on balls and Cornell began to grow correspondingly encouraged. But here Devlin showed his complete mastery of the situation by striking out the next three batsmen in succession.

For the first five innings not a run was scored and the rapid manner in which outs were registered on each side made it look like a pitchers' battle till the end. In Penn's half of the sixth Wilder started things moving with a single. Stites took Wilder's place at first to run bases for him. Stites was then advanced a base on a neat sacrifice by Hare. Swain then singled and sent Stites to third. Gladfelter sacrificed and Stites sprinted home with the first run.

This batting rally was continued in the next inning, when two runs were scored, and in the eighth inning Pennsy scored two more tallies.

Cornell was not really dangerous except in the first inning, when it seemed that the Ithacans could not be denied. Brewster, the first man up, was thrown out at first by Stites and Costello struck out. Champaign, however, got a base on balls. Welch, who followed, knocked out a three-bagger against the field wall of the grand stand and Champaign tried to reach home. Howes, who relayed the ball in from center, where it had bounded, caught Champaign two yards from the plate, retiring the side. The score:

Old Spring Found in Quadrangle.

The workmen excavating for the Goldwin Smith Hall made an interesting discovery a few days ago. In the middle of the quadrangle, a few rods from East avenue, they came upon an old spring used for watering cattle on the University farm nearly twenty-five years ago. The water flowed into a round stone trough about five feet in diameter.

Some of the older professors have identified the trough as one that stood near the University barn in the early days. Perhaps the earlier graduates will also remember it. The barn was located near the site of the Dairy Building, and the cattle were led out and watered at the spring in the middle of the present quadrangle. The trough will be removed in the course of the excavation for the new building.

CORNELL CREWS LEAVE NEXT WEEK.

Last Fortnight of Home Practice Witnessed Varsity Shake-ups—Two Freshmen Disqualified as Agricultural Students—Four-Oared Crew Rowing Well.

The Cornell crews will leave for Poughkeepsie Thursday, June 16th. This will give the men less than two weeks for practice on the Hudson, as the regatta occurs June 28th, but they cannot leave sooner on account of the final examinations, which only end on the day of departure.

The opening of the last fortnight of home practice for the crews has not found conditions entirely auspicious on the Lake. The weather last week was unusually stormy and the water was so rough in consequence that few good trials could be held. On Saturday the crews rowed as far as Glenwood, where they were driven back by a severe thunder storm. Coach Courtney has been experimenting with the Varsity men in different orders, none of which seemed altogether satisfactory. The development of the Freshmen eight was disturbed by the discovery that Alderman and Patten, two of the most promising candidates for positions in the shell, were ineligible because they are registered in the course in Agriculture.

The extensive shake-up in the rowing order of the Varsity which was made on the Monday following the Cornell-Harvard regatta did not accomplish the desired end. The order tried was: Bow, Stone; 2, Coffin; 3, Boesch; 4, Wadsworth; 5, Fernow; 6, Ballinger; 7, George Foote; stroke, Nutting.

After working with this combination for five days, Mr. Courtney decided that the weight was not properly distributed. Accordingly the heavier men were moved towards the bow, Boesch going to bow, where Stone had sat for so long, and Fernow and Foote going to 3 and 5 respectively. The new order, tried for the first time last Saturday, is: Bow, Boesch; 2, Coffin; 3, Fernow; 4, Wadsworth; 5, Foote; 6, Ballinger; 7, Stone; stroke, Nutting.

The boat trimmed better with this arrangement, but the crew did not appear to be any faster. The Varsity is not rowing so well, either as to form or speed, as last year's crew at this season, and Coach Courtney is trying hard to remedy this. The late spring and continued bad weather are largely responsible, the opportunities for good practice having been fewer by far than last year.

The Freshman crew has been doing well, and the coaches were just beginning the effort to round the youngsters into final shape, when word was received from the Poughkeepsie board of stewards that Alderman and Patten were ineligible. Alderman had been rowing at bow in the first Freshman eight and was a promising oarsman, while Patten was a likely substitute, and was pushing several of the men hard.

The men were disqualified under No. 4 of the eligibility rules. The portion of Rule 4 which applies reads as follows: "A candidate for a Freshman crew must be a member of the Freshman, or first year class, or a special student in the general academic or scientific departments in his university, not including the departments of law, medicine, agriculture, pharmacy, dentistry, veterinary medicine, music or the fine arts."

Coach Courtney was very much surprised to find that first-year men in Agriculture were excluded from the Freshman eight, as the rule as originally adopted was aimed merely at the three-year courses, whereas the Agricultural students spend the full four years at Cornell.

The Freshman order is now as follows: Bow, Graham; 2, Ostos; 3, Cooper; 4, Bishop; 5, Newton; 6, Coulson; 7, Stowell; stroke, Sumner.

The new four-oared crew, made out of half the second Varsity crew which rowed against Harvard May 28th, is doing excellent work. Barring illness and accidents, the order will not be changed for the race at Poughkeepsie. The four is made up as follows: Bow, Lee; 2, Barton; 3, Forbes; stroke, E. T. Foote.

The Varsity and Freshman substitutes are divided between a scrub eight and the second four, as follows: Scrub crew: Bow, Fisher; 2, Snyder; 3, Chapman; 4, Folger; 5, Johnson; 6, Aller; 7, Locke; stroke, Krauter. Second four: Bow, Stearns; 2, Goodier; 3, Davis; stroke, Woodruff.

Freshmen Lose Debate With Stamford Academy.

The Freshmen lost their second debate of the year last Friday evening, when they met Stamford Academy at Stamford, N. Y. The verdict was returned by the judges by a vote of two to one.

The 1907 debaters were R. D. Smith, J. Cleary and G. G. Bliss, who spoke in that order. C. A. Smith, leader of the team, was taken ill after reaching Stamford, and the alternate, R. D. Smith, was compelled to go in on short notice.

The question was, "Resolved, That the recognition of the independence of Panama by the United States was right." The freshmen had the affirmative.

N. D. Becker, '05, accompanied the team, and while the judges were deliberating presented to the school, in behalf of the Cornell Debate Council, the handsome silver trophy cup won by the academy in its contest with the Walton high school.

Eighty-four Responding Loyal—Attractive Programme for Reunion—Sketches of Some Who Will Attend.

Plans for the Twenty-year Reunion of the Class of 1884 are progressing finely, according to the report of Dr. Henry P. DeForest, reunion secretary. Many members have already accepted the invitation to attend, and other acceptances are coming in daily. It now appears as if fully half of the class will be in Ithaca. The programme for the occasion includes many interesting features in addition to the regular Senior Week schedule.

The reunion banquet will be held at the Ithaca hotel at 8 P. M. on Wednesday, June 22d.

Eatables, drinkables, smokables and thinkables will appear in due sequence. Letters and autobiographies of absent members will be read. A special diploma will be presented to each member present at the conclusion of the course.

The class headquarters will be at the Ithaca hotel, where the secretary will be stationed. Members are requested to report to him for orders immediately upon their arrival in the Forest City. In another column of this issue the class extends a formal invitation to '83 and '85 to join it at the Reunion banquet and to be present at any other portions of the celebration.

Among the '84 men who have already promised to be present at the Reunion are the following, of whom we print brief sketches:

George F. Ditmars has for many years been actively engaged in the practice of law in Geneva and is now the Surrogate of Ontario county. His home is in Geneva, N. Y. He will be present at the reunion of the Class of '84.

Ernest W. Huffcut also achieved merited prominence in the active practice of law, but in recent years has devoted himself more exclusively to teaching. He is now living at Ithaca, is professor of law in Cornell and is dean of the Law School.

William C. Krauss studied medicine in this country and abroad for some years after leaving Cornell. He has specialized in his profession and is now the professor of neurology in the University of Buffalo and a recognized leader among the alienists in the central lake region. His address is 479 Delaware avenue, Buffalo, N. Y. He will be present at the Twenty-year Reunion of his class of Cornell.

Charles D. Norton devoted considerable time to the practical application of the mechanic arts after leaving the University but for some years past has been on the staff of the United States Custom House, in the city of New York. His address is Leonia, N. J. He will be at the Reunion.

Henry L. Shively, who completed the regular course at Cornell in three years and then as a medical student at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City was one of the Harsen Prize men of his class, is now actively engaged in the practice of medicine in New York. His address is 303 Amsterdam avenue. He will be present at the Reunion.

Elmer G. Story was for some years an Inspector of the New York Custom House. Since his graduation in the Columbia Law school he has devoted himself to the practice of his profession. He has a handsome home at Bay Side, L. I., and has offices at 141 Broadway, New York City. He will also be there.

Charles M. Thorp is another of the legal lights of the class and has remained in the vicinity of his former home since leaving the University. He resides at 326 Maple avenue, Edgewood Park, Allegheny County, and has offices in the famous Frick Building in Pittsburg, Pa. He will be in Ithaca on the 22d of June.

Charles J. Walch taught school for several years after graduation, and in the meantime studied law. He was admitted to the bar in 1887 but soon gave up the practice and devoted himself to the study of medicine. He has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine in the city of Syracuse for some years. He lives at 1221 South Salina street and has offices in the University Building. He will actively assist in the celebration.

New Engraved Diplomas for Graduating Class.

This year, for the first time in the history of Cornell University, the members of the graduating class will receive engraved diplomas. Heretofore, although the diploma was of parchment and contained an elaborate design, the inscription was printed. This year the president has had made a new plate, from which the sheepskins will be engraved. The design is artistic and well executed and the new diplomas very handsome. Over 600 sheepskins will be necessary for the class of 1904 unless an unusually large proportion fail at the last moment to complete the required number of hours.

YOUR SUMMER HOLIDAY

Nature intended that we should spice up our daily toil with a short butterfly exit to some beautiful lake resort during the hot summer months. This is plainly evident both from our own natural desires and the many interesting places so lavishly provided.

Summer resorts such as Muskoka are occupying a great deal of our attention, because nature smiles upon us during the summer season and we can then live entirely out of doors, while we indulge in boating, bathing, games of different sorts and a great variety of other forms of recreation.

No other section of the world is so fortunately situated in this respect as the Province of Ontario. Muskoka with its many beautiful lakes, winding rivers and splendidly wooded islands, is within easy reach by rail, or boat and rail. A trip lasting but a few hours north of Toronto, will transfer tired and hot humanity to cool, peaceful surroundings, such as the gods are supposed to envy.

Handsome, illustrated, descriptive matter can be had free by applying to ROBERT BUSHBY, Traveling Passenger Agent, Grand Trunk Ry. System, Cortland, N. Y.

Your consideration will be appreciated, if, in writing to advertisers, you mention the CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS.
