Merry Christmas, 1947!

The sunny beach above is on the island of Kauai. It is no accident that when the missionaries began to write down the Hawaiian language, they couldn't find any word for weather . . . In a year-round climate as perfect as this, none was needed!

Volume 50, Number 8 December 15, 1947 Price, 25 Cents CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

Entered as second-class matter, Ithaca, N. Y. Issued twice a month while the University is in session; monthly in January, February, July and September; not published in August. Subscription price $4 a year.

New Students Here This Year Include 340 Alumni Children

CORNELLIANS' children to the number of 340 entered the University in the spring and fall terms this year, according to records in the Alumni Office. This is four fewer than the record-breaking number of alumni children who entered in the three terms of last year, but more than in any other year. It is about 12 per cent of the 2798 new students admitted in the two terms this year. To last June 25, the Admissions office has record of 785 applicants for the undergraduate divisions of the University this fall who were children of Cornellians.

Some Report Grandparents

This year, eighteen of the new students are of the third Cornell generation, with at least one parent and one grandparent alumni. Their Cornell lineages are traced in the box headed "Three Cornell Generations," on this page. Last year, twenty-six third-generation Cornellians were admitted, and two of fourth generation.

Besides those of uninterrupted Cornell lineage, fourteen Freshmen reported alumni grandparents but not parents. They are John G. Sherwood, grandson of the late Charles D. Marx '80; Richard E. Chittenden, grandson of the late Hiram M. Chittenden '83; Horace L. Hagerman, grandson of Percy Hagerman '90; James H. Downs, grandson of the late Byron W. Holt '90; John M. Patton, grandson of the late Charles H. Royce '91; James D. Stocker, grandson of Theodore B. Kolb '92; Alan P. Geddes, grandson of the late George C. Purdy '92; Carolyn S. Thelander, grandaughter of the late Thomas H. Savery, Jr. '95; Donald MacGregor II, grandson of the late John Mac-Gregor '96; Margaret E. Button, grandaughter of the late Ernest D. Button '98; Nelson I. Wilcox, grandson of the late George Gressman '98; Lisbeth L. Beach, grandaughter of Edgar Johnston '98; George C. Whiteley, Jr., grandson of the late Susan Geddes Hirsh '02; and Richard A. McGonigal, grandson of the late Richard K. McGonigal '04.

Besides the direct forbears, new students noted a large number and variety of other Cornell relatives, including brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, and cousins.

These children of alumni are listed by the Alumni Office from information given by new students when they first matriculate, both Freshmen and those who transfer from other colleges. But some always neglect to indicate their Cornell relatives, so the lists are frequently incomplete. Additions and corrections are welcomed, to complete the University records and for publication. They may be sent directly to CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS, 18 East Avenue, Ithaca.

In the lists which follow, asterisks (*) denote alumni who are deceased and daggers (†) denote step-parents. All children are Freshmen unless otherwise designated by Class numerals.

Both Parents Cornellians

Forty-seven all-Cornell families this year sent forty-nine children to the University; last year, sixty-one children were reported with both parents Cornellians. Four of this year's all-Cornell children are included among the third-generation Cornellians. The other forty-five are listed below, with their parents, including mothers' maiden names.

Berry Makes The Widow!

ORNELL WIDOW for Novem-Controlling will be the Thanksgiving recess, has an excellent "profile" of Romeyn Berry '04, written by Austin A. H. Laber '49 of Brooklyn and the Widow board. It is illustrated with a duplicate 1906 photograph of the subject, with the caption, "Oh no, there couldn't be two!!" The issue may be obtained for 25 cents from The Widow at 111 South Tioga Street, Ithaca.

Announce Opera Benefit

ORNELL Women's Clubs of the → New York City area will sponsor a benefit performance of the Metropolitan Opera Company in "Barber of Seville," January 29, for the Federation Scholarship Fund. This is the third year of such benefits, the Scholarship Fund last year receiving $2100 from a sold-out house. Seats are in the center sections of the Metropolitan Opera House, especially reserved. Tickets are in charge of Mrs. A. G. Albrecht (Aillin Leffingwell) '27, 55 East Sixtyfifth Street, New York City.

Marjory A. Rice '29 of New York City is general chairman of the committee and Mrs. George E. Bliss (Ethel Leffler) '24 of the Westchester Club is vice-chairman. Members from other Cornell Women's Clubs are Mrs. Wallace T. Smith (Marian Walbancke) '29, Long Island; Dorothy G. Lutz '32, North Shore of Long Island; Mrs. Louis A. Winkelman (Helen Kinney) '22, Northern New Jersey; and Mrs. Arthur R. Coehlo (Katharine Rodger) '18, Bergen County, N. J.

Many Foreign Students

FOREIGN students enrolled in the University this term total 272 from forty countries, according to Counselor of Foreign Students Donald C. Kerr '12. This number, which includes thirty-nine women, is twentyseven above last year's figure of 245 students from thirty-eight countries.

The University's pre-war peak of 185 foreign students is exceeded considerably, but the record enrollment is still the 302 in 1945-46.

Largest contingent this year, as last, is from Canada, 76 students. China's 51 students displace India, with 42, for second place. Other leaders are Norway, 10; Mexico and Turkey, 8 each; England, 7; Cuba, Ecuador, and Egypt, 6 each. Students are also here from Afghanistan, Argentina, Belgium, Bermuda, Brazil, Burma, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cyprus, Dominican Republic, Finland, France, Greece, Guatemala, Iceland, Iran, Italy, Jamaica, Nepal, Netherlands, Palestine, Pakistan, Panama, Peru, Philippines, Portugal, South Africa, Sweden, Venezuela, and Wales.

Carlos '24, Philippine Islands. Wesp-Buzzell

Letters

Subject to the usual restrictions of space and good taste, we shall print letters from subscribers on any side of any subject of interest to Cornellians. The ALUMNI NEWS often may not agree with the sentiments expressed, and disclaims any responsibility beyond that of fostering interest in the University.

"C" Bag Good Value

To the Editor:

I read the ALUMNI NEWS with great interest, and I always get a kick out of Rym Berry's column, "Now, in My Time!" because he so frequently goes back to the days I remember.

I had just finished reading his article having to do with the changing style of clothing as made by Bernstein, Rich, and Griffin when I was called to another part of the house. With Cornell memories still in my mind, I was stopped short by seeing an old laundry bag with the large red block "C," hanging on the knob of the door to the laundry closet. I asked Mrs. Hotchkiss whether it was possible that this bag was still in use, and she told me that my daughter uses it constantly.

Now this is the day when antiques have real value, and although I grant that the article is mended and the "C" is somewhat faded, I still think I have a possession; and I am not writing this letter to encourage anyone to make bids. If, however, you know the name of the laundry company who issued these bags at what I remember to be fifty cents, you might tell them that I now think they did not overcharge. —WILLIAM E. HOTCHKISS '08

Student Laundry Agency still sells its bag, now with a big red "S", for fifty cents, returnable, as it has for many years. For some time, its bags also had the "C"—Ed.

Alumni Opinions

Donald C. Kerr, secretary of the Class of '12, has been conducting an opinion survey of his Class, looking toward the possibility of instituting annual Class dues for a 100per-cent group subscription to the ALUMNI NEWS, similar to that now in effect for the Class of '19. Thus far, he reports, opinion is about two-to-one in favor of the plan.

From four of his Classmates, Kerr has received criticism of the NEWS; all four critics, however, declaring their willingness to support the plan and one offers to help underwrite it, if necessary. Since these criticisms are of general interest to all NEWS subscribers, we publish their essential points with permission of the writers, and invite other readers to express opinions on these matters. This column is for reader comment on any question that affects the University.—Ed.

"... I have always taken the NEWS, although sometimes get quite disgusted with it, chiefly because I feel it should be a more 'masculine' publication, as the Yale, Dartmouth, and Princeton weeklies you refer to. I don't suppose it can ever be done, but I think all parties would be better off if the women had their own publication and the men theirs. The 'class' of the NEWS has suffered greatly, in my opinion, by including women's news in a publication essentially for men. I take the NEWS more because I think it needs all the support it can get than because I enjoy reading it...."

"... I have felt for a long time that the University should donate a subscription to the ALUMNI NEWS to any alumnus who is willing to subscribe say $10 a year to the Alumni Fund. My feeling is that this would tend, as the years go along, to increase the number of readers and that, as a money-making proposition for the University, the cost of the subscriptions would be well spent..."

".... In my personal opinion, the News is a pretty drab affair, probably due to the fact that I am particularly interested in the athletic events, the reporting of which leaves much to be desired. No doubt other sections of the sheet appeal to a different type of reader; you can't please everybody. My point is that men thirty-five years out of college either have acquired the habit of reading the Alumni News or they haven't. The paper is hardly live enough to attract the latter in any large quantity.... It is pretty hard to revitalize a flock of old-timers who have drifted away for twenty years or more. . . .''

"... My feeling is that the CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS is more a propaganda organ fathered by the University authorities, or at least influenced by their thinking, and in no way presents the alumni feelings as to what should be done or should not be done at Cornell. We all did a lot of 'beefing' back at the Reunion about the fact that Cornell legacies could not get in the University and were supplanted by more brilliant students that had no Cornell background. Many similar ideas have come up for discussion and I know that the alumni body is beginning to get sort of sick of the whole situation. I think Myron Taylor recently stated that if Cornell didn't do more to cultivate their alumni and try to get their opinions and ideas and use them where possible, that in the long run the University would suffer and lose all alumni support. I think this is very true and I think it is high time that the ALUMNI NEWS wakes up to this fact and begins to present for the edification of the University the concensus of opinions of the alumni. . . ."

Those scholarship standings printed in another column of this issue are Fraternity Grades Interesting Swelling with pride, or you may be taking a rather jaundiced view of how the actives are letting the old house down.

But more important than whether the I Tappa Kegs are still a bunch of bums is the fact that the fraternity average as a whole has come up surprisingly. It is fairly common to assume that the Greeks automatically rank 'way down in scholarship, yet here come official figures to show that at Cornell, at least, they average only one-half of one percentage point below non-fraternity men, and the Pan-Hellenes only one-third of a point below non-sorority women. And the lowest fraternity is only 2.63 points below the all-men average.

The average of all sororities is still higher than that of fraternities (77.77 to 76.04), but the women have slipped .07 points compared with 1941-42, whereas the men have jumped their average by 2.15.

I see several possible factors contributing to the fraternity improvement. Veteran influence is one, even though, rather to my surprise, the veterans as a group rank below non-vets and below all undergraduates. The answer to that is the women; relatively few women are veterans and the women average better marks than do the men, though the gap is closing.

More important still in the fraternity improvement is. I believe, a lot of conscious effort on their part. The undergraduate Interfraternity Council is a very going concern. The still-new Interfraternity Alumni Association hovers in the background to remind the actives that life is real, life is earnest. Many undergraduate chapter officers were here in 1943 and remember The Sun campaign for fraternity self-improvement and a Barnes Hall meeting one night with President Day. Maintaining reasonably good scholarship is one of the best ways to disarm anti-fraternity talk. I know of one pledge who is getting tutoring help from an upperclassman, which is an indication of practical action.

It may, after all, be fruitless to draw conclusions. Could be that marking has changed, but I doubt it. Better If anything, the examina-Students tions have been harder, I Now would say. One inquiring professor has a big enough course so that figures mean something and he last year deliberately mixed in a few old questions on which he had kept score before: he found that they were consistently answered better than in preceding incarnations, with the result that he stepped up the difficulty of succeeding exams. Student friends returned from the war have told me that academic standards now are higher than ante-bellum. I think the men are doing so well because of greater motivation on the part of the older men and greater innate ability on the part of last year's Frosh.

Possible note for the future: I have been told that mid-term marks in Arts show that some of this year's Frosh are slipping. Of course, it's still early and some professors mark low at mid-term, on purpose to throw a bit of a scare into their students, but still it's a little disturbing. Perhaps some of our high school valedictorians have believed they were too good, and have been coasting.

Glee Club To Travel FIRST Christmas trip 'since 1940 will take the Men's Glee Club to nine cities where Cornell Clubs are making arrangements for the "hit" show, "Here We Are Again!"

December 21, the Club will perform in Toledo, Ohio, with successive onenight stands in Dayton, Cincinnati, and Indianapolis, Ind., through December 24. Christmas Day, the Club of some fifty members will rest in Chicago, Ill., and the next day will resume nightly performances in Chicago, Detroit, Mich., Cleveland, Ohio, Buffalo, and ending in Pittsburgh, Pa., December 30. Cornell Clubs are also arranging after-the-show parties.

Thomas B. Tracy '31, director of the Glee Club, says the show will combine Cornell songs and serious and light music; a quartet composed of William E. Felver, Jr. '44 of New York City, Frank N. Hepburn '48 of Chicago, Erwin C. Davis '50 of Pittsburgh, and Howard A. Heinsius '50 of Ridgefield Park, N. J.; and "stunts" by Savage Club members Kenneth S. Edwards, Jr. '48 of Suffield, Conn., David Bancel '49 of Montclair, N. J., and George L. Landon '49 of Ithaca, leader of the Glee Club. Manager of the Club this year is Lucius B. Donkle, Jr. '48 of Chicago. Tickets for the local performances may be obtained from the Cornell Club chairmen named on the back cover of this issue.

Group Works on Trustees

ALUMNI Association committee on Alumni Trustee nominations has organized for this year and asked for suggestions of suitable candidates for the spring elections. A letter mailed by the committee to officers and directors of all member organizations of the Alumni Association emphasizes the importance of having well-qualified candidates for election as Alumni Trustees of the University, and requests names of suggested candidates, with brief biographies.

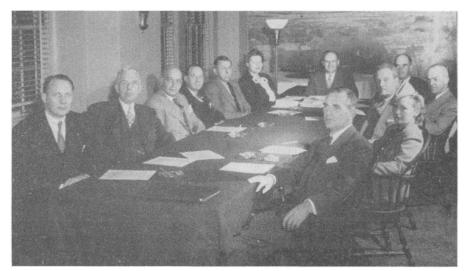

The committee points out that three Alumni Trustees will be elected to take office July 1, 1948, succeeding George H. Rockwell '13 and Thomas I. S. Boak '14, whose five-year terms expire, and the late Paul A. Schoellkopf '06 for the unexpired term ending June 30, 1949. The letter lists as qualifications for desirable candidates: "(1) Men and women in their middle years (under 55); (2) Recognized leaders in their chosen fields with character and integrity that inspire confidence in Cornell; (3) Strong interest in sponsoring higher education and unselfish devotion to Cornell: (4) Willingness to contribure liberally of time and abilities in fulfilling trustee obligations."

"The work of this committee," the letter says, "is, of course, intended to supplement and not to interfere with the present system which allows any alumnus the right to be nominated, provided he is sponsored by ten or more alumni. Our one desire is to serve Cornell by encouraging especially well-qualified candidates to be presented for election." Names and biographies of suggested candidates are asked to be sent to the chairman of the committee, H. Victor Grohmann '28, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York City 20.

Under the Charter of the University, any ten or more degree holders may file with the Treasurer of the University, on or before April 1, written nominations for Alumni Trustees. Election is by ballots mailed to all degree holders shortly thereafter, the results announced at the annual June meeting of the Alumni Association in Ithaca. Method and time of voting are under "such regulations... as may be prescribed by the alumni and approved by the [Board of] Trustees of the University or its executive committee."

Since it was first organized in 1942, the Alumni Association standing committee on Alumni Trustee nominations has disclaimed making any evaluation of Trustees who may be candidates for re-election. The late Albert R. Mann '04, original Trustee member of the committee, described as its objects:

To endeavor to serve the University by stimulating greater interest in Alumni Trustee nominations, by working with the constituent groups of the Alumni Association to see that the most able alumni, and those best fitted to serve the needs of the University at any particular time, would be placed in nomination; by making

Left to right around the table at the Cornell Club of New York, members of the Alumni Association committee on Alumni Trustee nominatons are Max F. Schmitt '24 of the Association of Class Secretaries, vice-chairman; Dr. Cassius Way '07, Veterinary Alumni Association; William F. Stuckle '17, Federation of Cornell Men's Clubs; Dr. Wade Duley '23, Medical College Alumni Association; Alumni Trustee George R. Pfann '24; Mrs. James A. McConnell (Lois Zimmerman) '20, Home Economics Alumnae Association; H. Victor Grohmann '28, Cornell Society of Hotelmen, chairman; General Alumni Secretary Emmet J. Murphy '22; Birge W. Kinne '16, Agriculture Alumni Association; Paul O. Reyneau '13, Cornell Society of Engineers; Mrs. Edwin S. Knauss (Dorothy Pond) '18, Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs; Earle W. Bolton, Jr. '26, Architecture Alumni Association. Members not present were H. W. Peters'14, Alumni Fund Council; Lawrence S. Hazzard '22, Law Alumni Association; and Newton C. Burnett '24 from the district Kastan those groups aware of openings on the Board that are to be filled; by advising them as to what type of alumni are needed by the University to answer the problems and questions likely to arise in the years directly ahead; . . . by leaving it to each constituent group to select its own candidate for election and in no sense trying to control nominations, but at the same time making plain to these groups that the interests of the University can best be served by a Board that adequately represents the entire alumni body and is not top-heavy with representatives of one particular group at any given time; by establishing a sharply defined and clearly understood system of informing graduates of the qualifications of all candidates, so as to eliminate the present evils of campaigning and to give each voter an opportunity to cast his ballot solely on the basis of the candidates' ability for service to the University; . . .

The committee consists of resentatives chosen by and from each of the constituent alumni organizations of the Cornell Alumni Association and one Alumni Trustee. At its organization meeting, the committee re-elected Grohmann as chairman and elected Max F. Schmitt '24, vice-chairman.

Buffalo Women Gather

B UFFALO Club of Cornell Women held a dessert meeting for November, at the home of Hilda L. Goltz '21, with twenty-six members present. Committee headed by Marjorie A. Montrose '46 arranged a "getacquainted" session with name bingo and quiz games, and a business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Andrew O. Stilwell (Charlotte Crane) '34.

Hotelmen Elect

SOCIETY of Hotelmen has reelected Henry B. Williams '30, president. He thus continues as a director of the Cornell Alumni Association. Williams is manager of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City.

In Philadelphia, Pa., Robert C. Bennett '40 of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel is president, Evan B. Whitacre '35 of the Whittier Hotel is vicepresident, Francis C. Whitman '40 of the Montgomery Inn, Bryn Mawr, Pa., is treasurer, and Paul J. Mc-Namara '35 of the Warwick is secretary.

President of the Pittsburgh, Pa., chapter is William P. Gorman '33 of the Hotel Henry, and Richard L. Hagy '44 of the Roosevelt is secretarytreasurer.

California chapter president is W. Earl Gilman '36 of the Gilman Hot Springs, and corresponding secretary is Richard P. Irwin '32 of the LaValencia.

In Chicago, Ill., Frank J. Oehlschlaeger '33 is president and Richard D. Vanderwarker '33 is vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

Fraternity Grades Up

COMPARATIVE tabulation of academic grades, suspended during the war, has been made for last year by Registrar's office.

The average of all undergraduates for 1946-47 was 76.733, which is 1.34 points higher than the pre-war average of 75.39 for 1941-42. The average for all men increased 1.56 points from 1941-42, and that for all women increased .81 point; while the allfraternity average increased 2.15 points and the all-sorority average dropped .07 point. Ernest Whitworth, Associate Registrar, points out that the fraternity with the lowest average last year would have placed in the middle of the group five years ago. The tabulation follows:

Study of the grades of veterans shows married veterans averaged 77.23 last year; unmarried veterans, 76.18; and all veterans, 76.38, while the average for all undergraduates who were not veterans was 77.22. Whitworth found that grades of nonveterans averaged higher than those of veterans in Arts and Sciences, Engineering, Industrial and Labor Relations, and Veterinary; while the veterans averaged higher in Agriculture, Architecture, Business and Public Administration, Home Economics, Hotel Administration, and Nutrition.

Pittsburgh Follows Game

Cornell Club of Pittsburgh, Pa., met in the Hotel Henry, November 15, for a play-by-play account of the Cornell-Dartmouth game, received from Hanover by telegraph and broadcast with appropriate comment, with a grid-graph chart and records of the Glee Club and Cornell Chimes. Refreshments were served and a $15 football pool was won by Jacob M. Murdock III '39. Wesley C. Pietz '27 was chairman of the committee.

Alumni Honor Dobie

COME 200 Cornellians gathered for J dinner at the Warwick Hotel in Philadelphia, the evening before the Pennsylvania football game, for the annual Thanksgiving Eve party of the Cornell Club of Philadelphia. Featured speakers after dinner, introduced by the toastmaster, William W. McKeever '39, were Robert J. Kane '34, Director of Physical Education and Athletics, and General Alumni Secretary Emmet J. Murphy '22. Entertainment was supplied by the brother-Class-secretaries, William C. Kruse '38 and Raymond W. Kruse '41. in a musical burlesque on a "home-and-home" Pennsylvania game series; by Professor Arthur Larson, Law, describing cricket and baseball; and by Tinius Olsen II '35 and his ping-pong players.

George H. Thornton '21, president of the Cornell Club, called upon Alumni Trustee George R. Pfann '24 to introduce Gilmour Dobie and twenty-eight of his "iron men" of the undefeated Varsity football teams of 1921, 1922, and 1923, and others, who had gathered from all over the country for an afternoon of reminiscences with their former coach.

These alumni and Dobie occupied several tables at the Club dinner, the next morning with their wives and families had breakfast with Dobie and his daughters, Jane and Louise, and all sat together at the game on Franklin Field. During the afternoon session, the group presented their coach with a silver cigarette case, inscribed: "To Gil, with mature appreciation of the fundamentals he so ably taught us twenty-five years ago. From his Iron Men of the early twenties." The small number of "C" men of those three years was explained by the fact that only sixteen Varsity football letters were awarded in 1921, only twelve in 1922, and only fifteen in 1923, and some of the players received the "C" more than one year. This record was compared with thirtyeight Varsity football letters awarded to team members last year.

Fraternity Gift Helps

CHAPTER ALUMNI corporation , of Sigma Phi, through its president, William A. Drisler, Jr. '37, last spring gave to President Edmund E. Day a check for $1,000 to be used for the University as he saw fit. Suggestion was made that if possible it be used in some way to further undergraduate instruction. With approval of the fraternity group, the President used the gift to augment the salary of a valuable member of the Faculty who had received attractive offers from other institutions but had decided to stay at Cornell.

Lewis '27 Wins Prize

FIRST prize of $3,200 in the welderies classification of the 1947 James T. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation "design-for-progress" program has been awarded to James T. Lewis, Jr. '27, president and general manager of the Lewis Welding & Engineering Corp. at Bedford, Ohio. His paper describes a commercial welder's facilities, administration, and operation.

In 1938, Lewis won $712 in the functional machinery classification of the Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation program. He entered Sibley College in 1923 from Yonkers High School with State Cash and Tuition Scholarships, and received the ME in 1927. He was a captain in the ROTC, sang second tenor in the Glee Club, and is a member of Alpha Delta Phi. As a major in France in 1945, he received the Bronze Star for directing the manufacture of a "rhinocerous" device to enable tanks to cut their way through the Normandy hedgerows.

Now, in My Time! By Corneyn Burry

WE LEARN from a writer in the Cornell Sun that Hoy Field has been selected as the site for the new building of the School of Industrial and Labor Relations.

How times flies! It was only yesterday-May, 1920, to be exact -that we read in the same paper of the incident that led to the creation of Hoy Field. The Sun that morning enlivened our breakfast by streaming the news that the grandstand at Percy Field had burned up during the night. We didn't believe it just then, thinking the story an amusing piece of Spring Day publicity. But we ceased to be either amused or incredulous when we went outdoors and saw the smoke, recalled that all the destroyed seats had been sold for the Spring Day baseball game, and that by the terms of the original gift, Percy Field reverted to the Sage estate when it ceased to be used for athletic purposes by Cornell students.

An hour later, a spontaneous meeting of the Athletic Council had voted, over the smoking embers, the creation of a new baseball field on the Hill. Work began that summer, and the games of 1922 were played on the new diamond.

We are in a position to state that when the School of Industrial and Labor Relations moves to its new location, it will cover the most skillfully fashioned, the best drained, and probably the most costly baseball field ever occupied by a School of Industrial and Labor Relations!

When work began, the area affected was a pretty discouraging expanse of hardpan. It had been shared during World War I, and left a wreck by the Army's School of Aerial Photography and a patriotic potato patch. Nobody could make a baseball field of that mess, so a baseball field, and a good one, was built on top of it.

First, bulldozers smoothed the hardpan into ridges and gutters designed to shed water like a roof. On this, an elaborate network of tile drains was laid down to lead subsurface waters into a storm sewer flowing from east to west on a line back of second base. The whole expanse was then covered by a course of hard cinders to a depth of twenty inches. On this porous foundation, the playing surface was built up of light, sandy loam brought down from Kite Hill, back of the Crescent. The base paths, however, were filled with a more cohesive, mucky loam brought up from Percy Field along with the steel stand. Finally, with a grass seeding and a fence, the new field went into action with the season of 1922.

All hopes for the new plant were justified by the results. That's the one baseball field of our acquaintance where you can have a cloudburst at 11 a.m. and not find enough surface water at noon to supply a drink for a canary bird; can surely play your scheduled game at 2:30.

The cost of all this ran to around $35,000, as we now recall the figures. Of this amount $18,000 was supplied from alumni funds by vote of the Cornellian Council, approved by the Board of Trustees. Mr. R. H. Treman '78 attended to that part. The balance was paid by the Athletic Association. No University money went into the construction of Hoy Field.

The one incident in the whole adventure that now lingers most vividly and most happily in your reporter's recollection was Mr. Hoy's reaction when, after a brief absence, he was recalled to a meeting of the Athletic Council and informed that the new plant had been named Hoy Field as a permanent recognition of his many years of useful service. Davy gulped, and then cried tears of deep emotion!

O well, sentiment can't stand in the road of practical expediency! But some day we propose to ask Industrial and Labor Relations to let us put up an inconspicuous brass plate to remind future generations that on its site once existed briefly a model baseball field named in honor of the kindest and most sympathetic old fraud that ever roared at frightened Freshmen and then fixed things up so they could stay in the University.

Slants on Sports

Pennsylvania 21, Cornell 0

T^{HE} expected happened on Frank-lin Field, Thanksgiving Day. Pennsylvania defeated Cornell, 21-0.

Some 78,000 spectators saw Cornell play its best game of 1947, but they also saw Cornell make costly mistakes. Fumbles and wayward passes led directly to all three Pennsylvania touchdowns. Pennsylvania did not score on long and crushing marches. as forecast; Pennsylvania did cash in the golden opportunities afforded by Cornell's miscues.

Thus Pennsylvania completed its first undefeated season since 1908, won its eighth successive victory over Cornell and its thirty-ninth victory in the series begun in 1893. Cornell has won twelve games. Three were ties.

James R. Farrell '50, starting right tackle in recent games, kicked off. Minisi returned to the 36-yard line. Cornell promptly smeared three plays for losses totaling twelve yards. Krichling kicked out on Cornell's 31. Lynn P. Dorset '50, quarterback, threw an eight-yard pass to Joseph R. DiStasio '48, right end. Captain Walter A. Kretz '45, right halfback, took off around end and was across midfield when he fumbled as he was tackled. Marshall of Pennsylvania recovered.

Team Tries Hard

Cornell's defense continued strong and forced a kicking game. Norman Dawson, Jr. '46, left halfback, brought a punt back to Cornell's 33. Dorset threw to DiStasio for first down on the 44. Dorset threw another, but Bednarik, Pennsylvania's all-America center, intercepted and returned to Cornell's 39. The miscue gave Pennsylvania its chance. Cornell lost five yards on a penalty, and Dooney, a substitute fullback, ripped through the center twice, chalking up two first downs and planting the ball on the 8-yard line. Deuber, a halfback, went through a hole at guard for a touchdown, and Lawless, a placekicking specialist, counted the extra point.

Pennsylvania did not play perfect football either. On the first play of the second period, a Pennsylvania back fumbled and Peter P. Pascavage '48 recovered.

After an exchange of punts, Cornell made its first vain bid for a score. Winfred B. Wright '45, fullback, uncorked a sixteen-yard run and a first down on Cornell's 34. Bernard S. Babula '50, halfback, and Robert T.

Dean '50, who played at quarterback and halfback, teamed for another first down on the 46. Dorset passed to John B. Rogers '45, left end, for twenty-two yards and a first down on Pennsylvania's 32. The Dorset-Rogers pass was worked again, putting the ball on the 19. Dorset continued to throw, but Jones, a substitute Pennsylvania back, was too good defensively. He knocked down one pass ticketed as a touchdown throw and intercepted another, returning to Pennsylvania's 17, where Krichling kicked.

By Bill Natera 27

Kretz misplayed the punt, but Dawson recovered on Cornell's 30. This time Dawson threw a pass. It was intercepted by Littleton, Pennsylvania end, who ran to Cornell's 19. Deuber raced to the 5-yard line, Dooney picked up four yards in two carries, and Littleton ran out the string by grabbing a touchdown pass from Minisi. Lawless converted. Cornell plugged away at its air game, but Edenborn, another Pennsylvania fullback, intercepted a Dorset pass near midfield just before the first half ended.

Early in the third period, Cornell made its second and last scoring bid. It came about when an errant pass in the Pennsylvania backfield was recovered by DiStasio on Pennsylvania's 46. On the next play, Dean threw a pass intended for Dawson, but Talar-

TEAM ELECTS QUINN

Joseph F. Quinn, Jr. '49 of Baldwin, starting left guard throughout the season, was elected Varsity football captain for 1948, in the Franklin Field dressing room after the Pennsylvania game. Veteran of the Navy Air Corps, he is twenty, weighs 205, is six feet one inch tall. He entered Mechanical Engineering in November, 1945, after a term at Hobart; is a member of Sigma Nu; also plays Varsity lacrosse.

ico, a Pennsylvania back, intercepted and ran to Cornell's 20 before Pascavage overhauled him. The play was nullified by a penalty against Pennsylvania for unnecessary roughness. This gave Cornell the ball on the Pennsylvania 29-yard line.

Dean raced through center for first down on the 18. Dean, Kretz, and again Dean plunged for first down, with seven vards to goal. Dawson started an end sweep. He reached the 5, and fumbled. Schweder, a Penn-sylvania guard, recovered. That was the heart-breaker. Thereafter, Cornell got no closer to the Pennsylvania goal than its own 38-yard line.

Pennsylvania's third touchdown was scored in the fourth period. Cornell was on its 18-yard line. Dean pitched a pass to Harry E. Cassel '50, left end. Cassel tried to lateral the ball to Frank L. Bradley, Jr. '50. The play misfired, and Co-captain Mc-Carthy recovered for Pennsylvania on Cornell's 15. On third down, Minisi threw a scoring pass to Sponaugle, a substitute end, and Lawless placekicked the point.

In the closing minutes, Quinn, a substitute back, joined the list of Pennsylvania interceptors. He went to the Cornell 28. Pennsylvania's first team returned to the field to try for another touchdown. The game ended with the ball on Cornell's 15-yard line.

Trail in "Ivy League"

Cornell registered twelve first downs to thirteen for Pennsylvania, gained 67 yards rushing (net) and picked up 95 vards on nine passes completed of twenty-eight. Pennsylvania's rushing game netted 138 yards and its seven completed passes (of twelve) accounted for 67 yards. Pennsylvania intercepted six passes, picking up 60 yards on the returns.

In the so-called Ivy League, Pennsylvania had the championship won before it played Cornell. This is how the teams finished: 117 т tuned up for its game with Pennsylvania by defeating Sampson College, 33-0, on Alumni Field November 21. At Philadelphia Thanksgiving morning, it lost to Pennsylvania by the same score.

Against Sampson, Cornell started scoring with an eighty-yard drive, and touchdowns were made by Sophomores Edward A. Merdes, Robert H. Lang, and Robert C. Ellis: two of the five set up with passes by Thomas V. Gargan '50 and three converted with placekicks by Frank L. Bradley, Jr. '50.

The team could do little against Pennsylvania, which scored three touchdowns in the first quarter. Only in the last period was Cornell able to put together a few gains to reach the Pennsylvania 10-yard line, where the game ended.

The Junior Varsity won four games and lost two. It defeated Yale, Cortland State Teachers, Princeton, and Sampson; lost to Syracuse and Pennsylvania.

Freshmen Really Play

FRESHMAN football team closed its season on Schoellkopf Field, November 22, by losing to Pennsylvania, 6-7, in one of the better home games of the season. Both teams played hard and well before 'some 3,000 spectators scattered through the west stands and including the Varsity team in its Saturday off duty.

All the scoring came in the second period, with Cornell moving into a 6-0 lead when Robert J. Haley, quarterback, took a punt and raced seventy-eight yards for a touchdown, the first scored against the Pennsylvania freshmen this season. Lyndon C. Hull, placekicker, attempted the point, but the pass from center was high, the kick was hurried, and the ball was blocked by Agocs, Pennsylvania end. Cornell kicked off, and Albertus. Pennsvlvania halfback. quickly tied the score, going off tackle eighty yards for a touchdown. Agocs, the kick-blocker, made good his try for the extra point

After the game, the squad picked as post-season co-captains Richard M. Ramin, right tackle, and Haley.

The team won three games and lost two, defeating Kiski School, Manlius School, and Syracuse and losing to Colgate and Pennsylvania.

Soccer Ends Season

S OCCER team broke even in its last two games, defeating Syracuse, 2-0, on Alumni Field November 22 and losing to Pennsylvania, 2-6, at Philadelphia November 27.

The team defeated Mohawk College and Syracuse, tied Princeton and Cortland State Teachers, and lost to Colgate, Haverford, Penn State, US Military Academy, and Pennsylvania. This is how the teams finished in the Middle Atlantic Soccer League:

|--------------|---|--------------|--------------|
| Pennsylvania | 4 | 1 | 0 |
| Lehigh | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Swarthmore | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Princeton | 1 | 3 | 1 |
| Haverford | 1 | 4 | 0 |
| Cornell | 0 | 2 | 1 |

Berman, Sawyer, and Captain Robert L. Trimpi '48 were chosen on the New York State squad which played a New England team in preliminary Olympic tryouts at Troy, November 23. Berman's play in that game earned him a berth on a North team which will play a South team in further trials to determine the makeup of the 1948 US Olympic squad.

1948 Football

`ORNELL will play nine football CORNELLI win play and the US games again in 1948, with the US Military Academy playing at Ithaca for the first time and Harvard making its first call since 1896. Army, Harvard, and New York University replace Yale, Princeton, and Lehigh of this year's schedule. The Army-Cornell game will be the fifth of a series in which each team has two victories. Harvard leads in its series with Cornell, eleven games to three. Cornell and New York University met once, in 1912, with Cornell the winner, 15-6. The 1948 schedule:

- Sept. 25 New York University at Ithaca Oct. 2 US Naval Academy at Baltimore
 - Harvard at Ithaca 9
 - 16 Syracuse at Syracuse
 - US Military Academy at Ithaca Columbia at New York City 23
- Colgate at Ithaca Nov. -6
 - Pennsylvania at Philadelphia 25

For the Record

Norman Dawson, Jr. '46, halfback. was given honorable mention by the Associated Press in its annual all-America team selections. The AP also put Dawson on its second all-Eastern eleven and, along with End Joseph R. DiStasio '48, on its all-Ivy League team. On the all-Eastern, honorable mention went to Matthew J. Bolger, Jr. '49, end; Frederick A. Westphal, Jr. '45, tackle; Captain-elect Joseph F. Quinn, Jr. '49 and Peter P. Pascavage '48, guards; Frank Pastuck '41, center; and Robert T. Dean '50 and Lynn P. Dorset '50, backs.

was re-elected president of the Rowing Coaches' Association of America at the annual meeting in New York City, November 28.

The ROTC polo team defeated the Ithaca All Stars, 21-12, in the Riding Hall, November 22. Albert Strauss '49, Youngstown, Ohio, scored 6 goals.

Basketball games in Barton Hall this season will be broadcast by the University radio station, WHCU-FM. One of the broadcasters will be Jerrold A. Lamb '47 of the station staff, former Cornell Daily Sun sports writer.

Hockey practice and games this year will be on the new pond above Dwyer's Dam on Cascadilla Creek, near the Riding Hall. First game at Ithaca is scheduled for January 17 with the US Military Academy.

More Messenger Lectures

MESSENGER Lectures on "The Theory of American Literature," delivered by Professor Howard Mumford Jones of Harvard, drew large audiences to the main auditorium of Olin Hall six evenings, December 1-12. Latecomers heard the lectures over a sound system in a nearby room, early in the series.

Introducing Professor Jones at the first lecture, which was entitled "The Literary Spirit of Each Age," President Edmund E. Day mentioned some of the topics of other Messenger lecturers to illustrate the wide variety of subjects that had been discussed since the late Hiram J. Messenger '80 established the Lectures "on the evolution of civilization." in 1923.

Jones is professor of English at Harvard, and from 1943-44 was dean of the graduate school of arts and sciences there. President of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, he is the editor of literary classics and the author of scholarly works, including Education and World Tragedy, The College Reader, and a life of the late Moses Coit Tyler, professor of American History at Cornell from 1881-1900. Professor Jones also discussed "Where Liberty Exalts the Mind," "From Crevecoeur to Tyler," "The Arms of the Anglo-Saxons," "A Usable Past," and "On Native Grounds." The lectures will be published by the University Press.

President of Freshmen women is Martha K. Palmer '51, daughter of James B. Palmer '21 and Mrs. Palmer (Martha Kinne) '24 of West Newton, Mass. Secretary-treasurer is Helen G. Malti '51, daughter of Professor Michel G. Malti, PhD '27, Electrical Engineering.

Hoy Field Threatened

 $C^{\rm ORNELLIANS\ may\ note\ with}_{\rm interest\ the\ engineers'\ stakes}$ evident on Hoy Field for the past week. In the words of Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds Hugh E. Weatherlow '06, the baseball field is 'part of the proposed site of the State School of Industrial and Labor Relations.'

"One of the guilty pegs is located behind the pitcher's box, another in deep center field, placed there by the firm of Sprague & Hinwood, on contract from the State to examine the location of the proposed building. The two mark the eastern edge of the future structure. Funds for construction have not as yet been voted by the State, but erection of the edifice will see the end of Hoy Field, regarded by many as the finest college baseball park in the country.

"Persons on the Campus before 1941 can remember lush rolling lawns where Olin Hall, the Diesel, Vet, and I&LR buildings now stand. Many grumbled when these beauty spots fell before the 'advance of progress.'

"Far more than doing away with a beauty spot, the loss of Hoy Field will cut the available athletic fields to a point where intramural sports will be forced out into the country. In addition to the elimination of Hoy Field, Lower Alumni will fall before the steamshovel with the advent of the proposed $1,000,000 athletic plant on that ground.

"At present, intramural football and softball have most of Upper Alumni to themselves in their seasons. In the fall, four separate football teams, two soccer squads, and two lacrosse teams overflow Hoy and Lower Alumni. Without these fields, the intercollegiate competitors would need so much of Upper Alumni that there would not be room for the many intramural contests now played there. In the spring, the situation would be little improved, with the various baseball and lacrosse squads and spring football practice leaving far too little room for intramural softball.

"In addition to the large area which the intercollegiate teams would need upon which to practice, a sizeable part of the available space would be taken up with a new baseball park to replace Hoy Field. All the less room for the intramural program.

"Where would the intramurals go? Planners would have us hike out to University land located near the radio transmitters, across Kline Road. The spot is one mile on foot from Willard Straight, at least thirty minutes of uphill walking from any of the houses behind the Law School.

"Superintendent Weatherlow indicated the new I&LR building has 'good priority' on the State building program. As such, Hoy Field might well be done away with while many of us are still on the Campus. Many of us may yet witness the downfall of an excellent intramural program for want of playing fields within reasonable distance of the Campus." -J. M. in Cornell Daily Sun

Join Eastern Conference

ORNELL is one of the organizers C of the new Eastern College Athletic Conference, comprised of fiftythree colleges and universities. Robert J. Kane '34, Director of Physical Education and Athletics, is a member of the nine-man executive committee.

These colleges have agreed to a standardized code which, among other things, forbids financial aid to athletes if the same assistance is not available to non-athletes and provides that in no case may financial aid exceed tuition fees plus incidental institutional fees; makes mandatory a year's residence for freshmen and transfer students and allows a maximum of one year of freshman competition and three years of varsity competition within a fiveyear period; bars special or night students and prohibits competition by students who have received Baccalaureate degrees. Athletes who participated in varsity sports during the war, however, will be allowed four years of varsity competition, and the five-year over-all rule is waived for service men whose college courses were interrupted by the war.

Commissioner Asa S. Bushnell commented that the conference has created"... for the first time in the history of collegiate athletics in the East ... a single set of exacting eligibility rules which can be supported and followed by all institutions in the area."

The Conference grew out of the Eastern Office for Intercollegiate Athletics which for ten years has operated under Commissioner Bushnell as a federation of intercollegiate leagues and associations in various sports, principally for making schedules and assigning officials for games. John T. McGovern '00, as counsel for the Conference, prepared its constitution, by-laws, and rules of procedure, except concerning eligibility.

Club Gives Food

FIFTY members of the Cornell Women's Club of New York enjoyed a buffet supper, November 19, at the Hotel Barbizon. Emma Weinstein '23 has resigned as president because of ill health, and Vice-president Edith L. Gardner '36 presided. She introduced Ina S. Lindman '21, director of home economics for United Fruit Co. and author of a US Navy cookbook, who spoke on "New Trends in Food Promotion." Members donated canned food to be sent to Cornellians living abroad, under direction of Mrs. Edward A. Maher III (Marguerite Hicks) '26.

Club Changes Name

N EWLY-ELECTED president of the Cornell Women's Club of Central New Jersey is Mrs. James R. Varley (Marie Davis) '22. Mrs. Richard Predmore (Catherine Pennock) '35 is vice-president and Mrs. Charles H. Reed (Lucile Coggshall) '32, secretary. The Club has adopted a new constitution and by-laws, and changed its name from the Cornell Women's Club of Delaware Valley, N. J.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

December, 1922-"The most popular spot in Ithaca at the moment is the railroad ticket office. The lecture room, the athletic field, and the movie theatre have no chance whatever in the competition for popularity. The boys want to go home and that's all they do want.

A philosophical person will accept the situation, bid them an affectionate farewell, and prepare against their return on January 4. With this thought in mind, the knock-down bleachers which served their turn for baseball and again as emergency west stands for football are today being moved to the Drill Hall. Here until the end of March they will be in almost nightly use for basketball games, wrestling contests, indoor track meets, tennis and fencing matches. The winter season in sports has become the most continuously busy and hectic one of the lot. I can't imagine how we ever got along before we had the Drill Hall.

Unusually heavy December snows have brought a great many people out on skis. Even though the skirts have WHCU-FM TRANSMITTING TOWER Rising 350 feet above Mount Pleasant, four miles east of Ithaca off the road to Dryden, this new steel tower began in October to transmit frequency modulation broadcasts from WHCU-FM, affiliate of University Station WHCU. Two new cinder-block structures contain all mechanical facilities for FM transmission, as well as a completely equipped appartment for the year-round resident engineers. The station is on the air for several hours morning and afternoon, and from six p.m. tomid-night with network programs. It is now on limited power of 10,000 watts, but the full 40,000 watts for which WHCU-FM is licensed will extend coverage to a ninetymile radius from Ithaca.

December, 1932—"Pinochle Wells" is dead; little Pinochle Wells with the cast in his eve and the birdlike way of looking at you sideways. Pinochle got his start in the second-hand clothing business; his name derived from his sporting blood; he never liked to buy an old suit for an agreed price. After the argument was settled, he would propose "Double or nothing!" Or, if you liked, he would play you a game of pinochle, with coat, vest, and pants for stakes. On these romantic foundations he built an important clothing business, straddling Ithaca and Akron, Ohio. Many of you will feel a twinge to hear of his passing.

The Cornellian has announced the demise, in these difficult times, of certain Campus clubs which you may remember with affection. These are Chi Alpha, Medical honor society; Goldwin Key, honor fraternity in Arts; Scalpel, pre-Med; Thumb Tack Club, Architecture; Totem, social; Tau Epsilon Phi and Sigma Upsilon, fraternities; and Druids, unidentified. These casualties are, however, replaced by the Football Club, the Polo and Riding Club, the Hellenic Club, and Curia, a Law society.

Women at Work

A^{SSISTANT} Alumni Secretary Pauline J. Schmid '25 represented the University at a college conference for girls in the Ridgewood, N. J., High School, November 19. With assistance from Mrs. Carl P. Wolff (Irma Dean) '33, Miss Schmid interviewed seventy-one prospective Cornellians, missing a concurrent tea party to devote four hours to individual conferences.

Next day, at the Plandome home of Mrs. John G. Rankin (Marjorie McAdoo) '35, Miss Schmid spoke at a meeting of the North Shore, L. I., Women's Club. Members Cornell present bought fifty 1948 Cornell Engagement Calendars. The meeting was in charge of President Anita Minkin '39.

Next Issue Delayed

N EXT issue of the ALUMNI NEWS will be dated January, and will be mailed January 14, 1948. This is a change in our publishing schedule this year, to bring the frequency of the NEWS into closer accord with the University schedule. Christmas recess starts December 20 and ends January 4. Prelims and preparations for Christmas will pretty much occupy the interval from now until the University closes. Our January issue, therefore, will bring you the news up to date. Meantime, a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to you all!

D RAMATIC CLUB presented the Pulitzer Prize play, "Alison's House," by Susan Glaspell, to sparse audiences in the Willard Straight Theater, December 4, 5, and 6. The gloomy drama of death and frustration gave opportunity for excellent characterizations of the old aunt, Agatha, by Audrey S. Werksman '49 of Passaic, N. J., and of Eben, her nephew, by John H. Armstrong '49 of Elmhurst, Ill. Lenore S. DeKoven '49 of New York City was at times effective as Elsa, the wayward Stanhope daughter. Settings and costumes of 1899 were authentic. Direction was by Robert J. Dierlam, Grad, of Ithaca.

Repeating the production which met with favor last year, the Club presented the early miracle story, "The Second Shepherd's Play," three times December 13, before the University closes for Christmas. The performances were given without charge in the Willard Straight Theater, under direction of Albert E. Johnson, Grad, of Charlottesville, Va.

On The Campus and Down the Hill

Christmas greens and lights and a large star at the Corner of State and Tioga Streets have reappeared downtown this year, having been a war casualty since 1941. Mammoth "Star of Bethleham" shines from the Mc-Graw Hall tower.

Spirited campaign brought recordbreaking gifts to the Ithaca Community Chest from some 10,500 contributors of nearly $230,000. Education division, under chairmanship of Professors Perry W. Gilbert, Zoology, and Wallie A. Hurwitz, Mathematics, reported that eighteen teams in the University collected 2962 gifts totalling $43,478, including one of $3,500 from the University itself. Students gave to a separate Campus Chest about $7,000.

Potent appeal for the Community Chest was the need to recoup damage to Memorial Hospital caused by last summer's flash flood and modernize Hospital facilities under its transfer to county operation, January 1. Public ownership of the Hospital was decided upon to enable it to get State aid. A county-appointed board of managers includes James E. Rice, Jr. '31 of Trumansburg, now president of Hospital board of trustees; Charles E. Dykes '36, currently treasurer; and Dr. Erl A. Bates, Adviser in Indian Extension of the College of Agriculture. It is hoped that public operation of the Hospital may be the forerunner of a new and inclusive health center in Ithaca.

Bonfire laid on the vacant lot north of Myron Taylor Hall for a giant send-off rally for the football team to Pennsylvania and Freshman cap-burning was touched off the night before by persons unknown. An "Open Letter" in the Sun next morning from the presidents of Sphinx Head, Quill and Dagger, Red Key, and Aleph Samach castigated the studentry for "overall lack of support and poor spirit displayed," and called off the rally. Letters to the editor the next day pointed out that a bonfire wasn't necessary to speed the team to Penn, and a spontaneously-organized torchlight parade of some 200 cars toured the Campus and took a yelling crowd to the Lehigh station to see the players off.

Weekly news analyses by Professor Edward M. Fox, History, are given from University Station WHCU Sundays at 1:50. Professor Fox was formerly chief of policy analysis in the US State Department.

"March of Time" film shown in theaters the month beginning November 28 includes a sequence taken on the Cornell Campus. The film is titled, "Public Relations . . . This Means You!" March of Time camera crew flew to Ithaca, October 6, to photograph Professor William B. Ward, Extension Teaching and Information, teaching his class in Public Relations in the School of Industrial and Labor Relations. The film pictures the group in a classroom of Myron Taylor Hall and an exterior of the building. Edward L. Bernays '12, once called by Time magazine "America's No. 1 publicist," is also shown at work. Undergraduate Class activities are showing a sudden spurt, with a Senior smoker and election of a Class president and secretary December 5, the same evening as the Sophomore Ball; election of Freshman officers and members of the Student Council December 9; and the Junior Smoker, December 12.

"Spirit and traditions committee" has finally been abolished by the Student Council after a checkered history of three years. It was organized in October, 1944, at the urging of Dr. Minor F. Watts '45, who had come to the Veterinary College from Iowa State University and became its first chairman. Several times under fire since, the committee's functions have now been officially designated by the Council to the undergraduate honor societies of men and women.

Beta Theta Pi won the intramural touch football championship, after leading the fraternity league, by defeating the McGraws, independent champions. Seventy-two teams competed. Attention is now turned to intramural basketball, with nine or ten games on six courts every evening to give action to more than 100 teams in eleven leagues from now through March. Afternoons, the courts are used by twenty women's teams in five leagues.

Glee Club president this year is Quinton W. Simkins '49 of Pitman, N. J.; vice-president, Neal L. Hospers '50 of Los Angeles, Calif.; secretary, Eric W. Kiellmark '49 of Scarsdale; and treasurer, Arthur J. Heinicke, Jr. '49, son of Director Arthur J. Heinicke, PhD '17, of the Geneva Experiment Station.

Track men followed their annual custom by gathering at Coach John F. Moakley's home on Willard Way December 11, to greet him on his eighty-fourth birthday. He goes to the board track every day to give instruction with the help of his assistant, Edward G. Ratkoski '35.

UNIVERSITY TRUSTEE GETS TRAFFIC TICKET

As his "community consequence" to further the Ithaca Community Chest, Trustee Robert H. Treman '09, president of Cayuga Motors, Ford dealers, was required to drive a 1916 Model T from his show-window down State Street at noon, and received a "ticket" from the Ithaca police for blocking traffic. His passenger is Ralph C. Smith '15, co-chairman of the Chest campaign. Following is a tow-truck from Lang's Garage, but it wasn't needed! "Truth or Consequences" penalties were dreamed up against several prominent Ithacans and Cornellians at Chest dinners by R. Selden Brewer '40 and Truman K. Powers '30, chairmen of the entertainment committee.

The Faculty

President Edmund E. Day was elected chairman of a committee on a national scientific foundation and a member of a special committee on Federal legislation, at the National Association of Land Grant Colleges conference in Washington, D. C., November 10-12. Director of Resident Instruction in Agriculture A. Wright Gibson '17 was named to the committee on organization and policy of the resident instruction section of the Association; Provost Arthur S. Adams. to a special committee on Federal legislation for buildings; and Professor Catherine J. Personius, PhD '37, Foods and Nutrition, secretary of research in home economics.

Fifteen-story wax research tower, forty feet square, with curtain walls of tubular glass, tapering slightly from top to bottom, is being built for S. C. Johnson & Son, Inc., of Racine, Wise., whose president is University Trustee Herbert F. Johnson, Jr., '22. President Johnson, commenting on the building designed by Frank Lloyd Wright, said that it "will not only provide us with unsurpassed facilities for getting our experimental work done but should also, because of its beauty of design, give pleasure to those who work in it, and the many thousands who we hope will come to see it."

President John C. Adams '26 of Hofstra, formerly associate professor of English, was re-appointed secretary-treasurer of the Association of Colleges and Universities of the State of New York, November 14.

Professor Richard P. Feynman, Physics, met with a group of theoretical physicists for a three-day conference in November at George Washington University and the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C., to discuss gravitation and electro-magnetism in relation to the general theory of relativity.

Honorary Doctor of Sciences (Botanics) was conferred on Professor Lester W. Sharp, Botany, Emeritus, in absentia, October 20 by the University of Louvain, Belgium. The highest distinction conferred by that university, it was given to Professor Sharp in recognition of his "special scientific merits."

An Introduction to the Phonetics of American English, by Professor Charles K. Thomas '22, Speech, has been published by Ronald Press Co., New York City. Professor Thomas recently lectured at the veterans' language clinic of Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, Mass., on "The Relations of Linguistics to Speech Correction."

Professors Knight Biggerstaff, Far Eastern Studies, and R. Lauriston Sharp, Sociology and Anthropology, attended a conference on world area studies called by the Social Science Research Council, at Columbia University, November 28-30. A score of colleges and universities were represented in three days of group discussions. Professor Biggerstaff participated in the group for the Far East and Professor Sharp in the group for Southeastern Asia.

Professor Donald English, Accounting, was presented a plaque and desk set by the Cornell chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon at the initiation banquet in October, "for his devotion and unselfish service for many years." Member of the chapter at University of California, of which he is an alumnus, Professor English from 1915 until recently was advisor to the Cornell chapter. The plaque was presented to him by Evan J. Morris, president of the alumni chapter.

Professor Giraud Chester, Speech, has been appointed for three years associate editor in charge of the periodical department for the Quarterly Journal of Speech, published by the Speech Association of America.

Counselor of Students Frank C. Baldwin '22 represented the University at the annual meeting of the National Interfraternity Council in New York City, November 28-29.

Director Charles R. Burrows, Electrical Engineering, has been elected chairman of the technical program committee for the annual convention of the Institute of Radio Engineers which will be held in New York City, March 21-25. He has appointed Professor Edwin W. Hamlin, Electrical Engineering, as secretary of the committee, and Professor True McLean '22, Electrical Engineering, a member.

Chapter on law was contributed to a recent petition to the Human Rights Division of the United Nations from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People by Professor Milton R. Konvitz, PhD '33, Industrial and Labor Relations, who is a member of the national legal committee of the NCAAP. The 155-page petition was for redress of the denial of human rights to Negroes.

Professor W. Arthur Rawlins '32, Entomology, has returned from Poland, where he has been since July. On temporary assignment with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, he went at the request of the Polish Government for an entomologist to help combat potato pests in that country.

Professor John E. King, PhD '42, Rural Education and Director of Extramural Courses, has left the University to be academic dean and associate professor at the Duluth branch of the University of Minnesota. He returned here last year as an assistant professor.

A son, Bruce Patton Bryant, was born November 12 in Ithaca to Nelson Bryant '39, graduate instructor in Electrical Engineering, and Mrs. Bryant, who was formerly an editorial assistant in the Vice-president's office.

Air Lab Cited

CORNELL Aeronautical Laboratory in Buffalo has been cited by the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project for successful demonstration of underwater television in last summer's scientific resurvey at Bikini Atoll, site of the atom bomb tests.

Rear Admiral W. S. Parsons, USN, deputy chief of the project, in a letter to Karl D. Swartzel, head of the department of physics at the Laboratory, called the demonstration "a real contribution to science and to the country." He referred to the experiment as "an accomplishment of which you and other members of the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory group can well be proud. Although your stay at Bikini was short, your ingenuity, imagination, and hard work in planning and carrying out the television tests and in processing necessary contracts and logistic arrangements were of great value. These underwater television experiments promise to lead to development of a new and highly important tool for undersea technology.',

By means of remote-controlled television cameras, observers could watch fish swimming around the deck of a submarine 160 feet below the surface. The equipment, adapted at the Laboratory, is similar to airborne television used by the Navy to scan instruments in pilotless planes.

US Air Force and Navy have assigned eight technical experts to the Laboratory to evaluate aircraft stability and control methods which have been developed there under William F. Milliken, Jr., acting director of the flight research department. These techniques are expected to be useful in the development of high-speed aircraft and applications of automatic control. News of the Alumni

Personal items and newspaper clippings about Cornellians are earnestly solicited

He lives at 12 The Place, Glen Cove, L. I.

'14—We had a nice Class dinner in New York the night before the Pennsylvania game. Sixty-nine stalwarts warmed up for Thanksgiving on a good turkey dinner and settled the affairs of the world, particularly the football situation. Among those from a distance were Cutie Edson from Chicago, Stubby Chamberlain (long time no see!) from Washington, Guy Campbell from Baltimore, Don Rice from Trenton, Red Gillette (bringing Stuffy De Mun) and your correspondent from Ithaca, and Jim Munns, who left Mr. Weir to make steel all by himself in Weirton. Too many of the weak or wealthy were in Florida, from the tenor of the cards of regret read amusingly by Ache Acheson, poetic letter-writing chairman, who "sweat his fingers to the bone" over the affair. Walt Kuhn '12 (than whom nobody loves a Cornell party better) gave Hal Halsted pointers on Thirtyfive-year Reunions. There was a call for Dr. Flood. Munns documented (?) some shocking scandal about Frank Rees. The Jersey commuters had to leave at 10:30 while the going was at its best. My present outstanding recollection is one of Ike Carman pleading for "ten seconds, please!" -Emerson Hinchliff '14

'14 BS, '22 PhD; '14 AB—Professor Leslie E. Card, head of the animal science department of the college of agriculture of the University of Illinois, Urbana, has received the Illinois Poultry Industry Award. Son of the late Fred W. '14 PhD—Frank E. Rice of 307 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago 1, Ill., has been executive secretary of the Evaporated Milk Association for twenty years.

'15 AB—Emanuel M. Ostrow, who has practiced law for twenty-five years in New York City, has opened an office in Bedford where he will continue to engage in general practice and be counsel in matters requiring Westchester County representation. In the past, his practice has included trial and appeal counsel work in all courts. His address is Court & Old Post Roads, Bedford.

'16 LLB—Alex M. Hamburg of 7 Lord Avenue, Lawrence, tax counsel, spoke on tax valuations, November 18 at the New School for Social Research in New York City.

'17 BS—Lloyd B. Seaver of Thompson, Conn., plant manager of Belding Heminway-Corticelli Silk Co., Putnam, Conn., and Morristown, Tenn., writes that his daughter, Joan, was married last winter to an ex-Naval pilot. His son, Richard, was graduated in June from the University of North Carolina; was captain of the wrestling team, Southern AAU wrestling champion, literary editor of the college paper, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year, and belongs to Sigma Chi. The young man now teaches and coaches football at Pomfret School, Pomfret, Conn., and plans to study for the Master's at the Sorbonne, Paris, France, next year.

'18 --- First "broadside" for the Thirty-year Reunion of the Class of '18 next June 11-13 was mailed to all men of the Class in mid-November. Hand drawn and printed in red on a sheet fifteen by twenty-one inches. it appears to be the work of the Class Reunion chairman, William A. Adriance, who is art director of Brooke, Smith, French & Dorrance advertising agency, 52 Vanderbilt Avenue, New York City. It has illustrated messages from the Class president, Elbert P. Tuttle; from Arthur L. Hoffman, chairman of Reunion arrangements; Henry W. Roden, Class secretary; and a coupon for partial payment of the Reunion fee to go to Joseph S. Barr, Class treasurer. Pre-Reunion dinner will be at the Cornell Club of New York, January 23, 1948, under chairmanship of T. Rowan Wagner.

We saw in the paper recently an announcement of a dividend declaration by the Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. The notice was signed by Morse G. Dial, secretary and treasurer. Our heartiest congratulations, Bo! We had no doubt that you were doing well but did not realize until now, how well. "It's a long, long way" from Fargo, N. Dak. to 30 East Forty-second Street, New York City. This gives our Class at least two potent representatives in the great chemical industry, the other being Ed Queeney, chairman of the board of Monsanto Chemical Co. If only we could claim Walter S. Carpenter, Jr. '10, president of duPont, we would almost have a "grand slam." However, we shall have to content ourselves with the knowledge that he is, after all, a Cornellian even though not a member of our Class.

Dr. Frank L. Verwiebe recently resigned as an associate professor of physics at Hamilton College to accept a research associate position in the field of guided missiles at the Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Laboratory in Washington, D. C. A holder of advanced degrees from the University of Chicago and the author of several technical books, Frank is now residing with his wife and daughter in Washington.

Walter L. Miller has decided to resume the practice of law in Susquehanna, Pa. His home address is 608 Washington Street and his office address, 223 Main Street, in that city.

We have just seen a photograph of a beautiful painting by Charles Baskerville at the DKE house at Cornell. This painting has been presented by the artist to the Chapter as a memorial to five brothers who lost their lives in World War II. Charlie, who served in both wars and is one of the nation's leading portrait painters, resides at 130 West Fifty-seventh Street, New York City.

Speaking of Charlie, will you ever forget the trick he played on us in 1929 on the occasion of our Ten-year Reunion? Fully aware of his exceptional talents, we commissioned him to design our Reunion costume and then awaited the creation of the master with pleasant anticipation. As a result of our misplaced confidence, we cavorted about the Campus and town for three days in very brief, red and white checked gingham rompers. The payoff came when we learned that Charlie had sailed the week before for a holiday in Paris.

A Very Merry Christmas to all of you!

'23 BS; '34—Thomas A. Brown is

The Court of Common Pleas in Fifteenth Century England

A STUDY OF LEGAL ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEDURE

By Margaret Hastings New Jersey College for Women

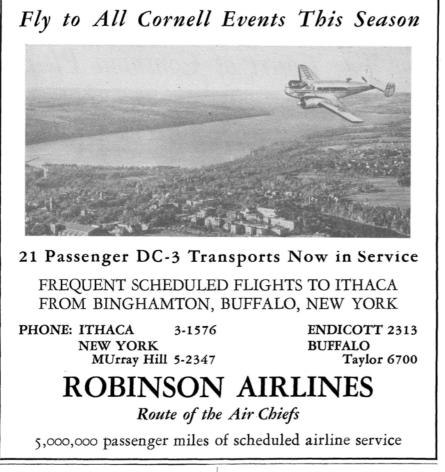

Collected in this volume by Margaret Hastings, Instructor in the New Jersey College for Women, is information about the court in the later middle ages that has heretofore been widely scattered in works published from the later fifteenth century to the present day. Miss Hastings has used the original plea rolls in making this complete and thorough study of the Court of Common Pleas in fifteenth century England in order to give an authentic presentation of her subject. The officers who did the administrative work of the courts, the justices who gave the decisions, and the sergeants at law and attorneys who conducted the legal business of clients are all described concretely.

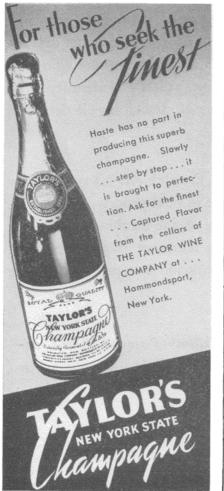

A personal action is traced through the many necessary steps from the original writ to final process, and finally, the possibilities of sabotage of the machinery of justice have been illustrated and a tentative diagnosis made of the health of legal administration as represented in the Court of Common Pleas.

Contents. General Picture of the Court—Personnel of the Court— Method of Bringing a Personal Action—Handicaps and Weaknesses—Appendices.

"An Ideal Gift For Any Cornellian"

"The book OUR CORNELL is one of the most fascinating publications I have ever received. It was a brilliant idea to take the published writings of such people as Ken Roberts and Dana Burnet and put them into a single volume where everybody can enjoy them. My copy will probably have a circulation of about fifty people before it gets back to my bookshelf."—Charles L. Funnell '16

Why housekeeping gets "lighter" all the time

"... Woman's work is never done."

True enough. But today's homemaker — aided by her modern refrigerator, range, water heater, vacuum cleaner and other appliances finds more time for family and for leisure.

And what helps these "automatic servants" operate so dependably? Better materials for one thing.

Materials on the inside – the unseen working parts of household standbys. Such as alloy steels, new plastics, carbon brushes in motors...lighter, more compact materials that make appliances stand up longer and handle with ease.

Materials, too, that you can see ... as those stainless steel surfaces so easy to clean. Or the chemicals in more enduring waxes and polishes, varnishes and plastic finishes. Yes, today's housewife enjoys new leisure, new freedom from drudgery . . . thanks to better materials.

Producing these better materials and many others—for the use of science and industry and the benefit of mankind —is the work of the people of UNION CARBIDE.
